

Senate Unanimous in Social Security Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — With unanimous Senate approval under their belt, congressional leaders are pushing to get a $5-billion Social Security increase onto President Nixon's desk by Tuesday.

That schedule would boost Social Security checks of 26 million Americans by 10 to 56 percent, effective last Jan. 1. The increases would show up in checks mailed the first of June.

By an 82-0 vote, the Senate Friday adopted an amendment raising benefits and Social Security taxes on employees and employers. The Social Security provisions were tacked onto an unrelated House-passed bill raising the national debt limit.

Sponsors said they will try to arrange a Senate-House conference on the measure for Monday afternoon, work out a quick compromise and then get the final version through both houses the next day.

The other would allow persons retired under Social Security to earn up to $2,400 a year without loss of any benefits. The ceiling now is $1,680.

The bill to which the Social Security provisions are attached would raise the national debt limit to $430 billion, an all-time record and $35 billion above the present ceiling.

The administration has said it needs this increase by Tuesday to avoid embarrassment to the Treasury in meeting government obligations.

Could't Break Into Jail

Patience Saves 60 Days

MIAMI (AP) — Sammy Lee Fleming waited around the Dade County Courthouse all day Friday, trying to turn himself in to start a 60-day jail term. But nobody would take him.

He walked out of the building a free man Friday evening after a judge decided that anyone who would put up with that much red tape to accept his punishment deserved a second chance.

Fleming waited outside a court room and tried periodically to get sent to jail. But each time the jailers brushed him aside, he said.

A spokesman said later none of the jailers involved

was available for comment.

Fleming was still waiting nervously when he was notified by an assistant public defender, Roy Black.

Black found out what Fleming was waiting for, then went into the courtroom and told Judge Alfonso C. Sepe, "This man deserves a chance. Anybody else would have been gone by now."

The judge agreed and reduced Fleming's sentence to probation.

After nine hours in the building, a happy Fleming shook hands with Black, then went home to his wife and child.

Accept Increase

The House is considered certain to accept the 10-percent increase voted by the Senate. But, based on past experience, it is expected to reject the $100 million monthly payment for an individual which would mean a much bigger boost for those at the bottom of the scale. The present minimum is $64.

It is understood the House also is ready to accept the Senate's method of paying for the higher benefits.

This would raise the taxable wage base from $7,800 to $9,000, starting in 1972, and increase the tax rate gradually starting in 1976.

Present Law

It would provide for an eventual rate of 6.5 percent each for worker and employer in 1987 and thereafter instead of 5.9 percent as under present law.

Under present law, payments for individuals retiring this year at age 65 range from $64 to $193.70, and from $96 to $290.60 for couples. The Senate bill would raise this to $100 to $213.10 for individuals and $150 to $319.70 for couples.

The Senate bill contains two other liberalizations of Social Security.

Special Payments

One would boost by 5 percent special payments to a limited group of 600,000 persons 72

Some Troops to Remain After Withdrawal

End to Laos Action Seen in About 2 Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese field officers said today at a command post near the Laos border that the major portion of the operation in Laos will end in about two weeks but that some troops will remain behind at border posts.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from Ham Nghi that Brig. Gen. Pham Van Phu, commanding the 3rd Regiment at Fire Support Base Delta One, 10 miles inside Laos from the frontier. The 2nd had been at the now abandoned Fire Support Base Sophia, about 24 miles inside Laos and three miles southeast of Sepone.

Field officers said current plans call for the South Vietnamese to return to the border by April because expected rain and fog will make U.S. air support virtually impossible.

The farthest into Laos the South Vietnamese went was to Sepone, a major objective 25 miles west of the border along Highway 9. The field officers said troops of the 1st Infantry Division met only light resistance today as they began the final phase of the operation.

The division's objective is to search Route 914, one of three major road networks in the Ho Chi Minh trail. The highway runs between Sepone to Muong Nong to the southeast where it joins a third key road, Highway 92. When the South Vietnamese moved into the Sepone area a week ago, North Vietnam bypassed that transshipment point with its supplies in favor of Route 914.

Under Attack

The entire area has been under heavy attack by U.S. B-52 bombers, and earlier this week South Vietnamese advance elements reported finding nearly 500 North Vietnamese bodies and huge quantities of war supplies destroyed by one strike.

In Saigon, meanwhile, a government spokesman said the South Vietnamese will use helicopter troops to keep pressure on the supply network designed Friday's pullback from the Sepone area. "We are still in the area and will rely on helicopter mobility to maintain our initiative," the spokesman said.

A staff officer agreed. "We don't need to stay at Sepone," he said. "We don't want to be in the position of sitting ducks. We want to keep moving."

The Saigon forces claimed a major victory when they took Sepone but did not occupy it because its location in a valley makes it a natural target for artillery and ground attacks.

Hanoi Knew

A North Vietnamese defector told a news conference Friday that Hanoi knew about the Laotian invasion long before it began and placed 30,000 troops around Sepone. But the commander of American forces supporting the South Vietnamese, Lt. Gen. James W. Sutherland Jr., told correspondent Esper only three enemy regiments are around Sepone now and they are "sort of beaten up ... not in good shape."

Spokesmen in the northern South Vietnam base camp of Quang Tri claimed today the operation in Laos has resulted in 11 North Vietnamese dead for every South Vietnamese soldier killed. Their casualty figures listed 8,008 enemy and 726 South Vietnamese killed. There have been 2,736 South Vietnamese wounded, and 158 enemy soldiers, 1,057 crew-served weapons and 3,442 individual weapons captured, they said.

More Answers to be Sought

Senators Dissatisfied With Cole Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — An ex-general has been ordered to a third day of interrogation by senators unwilling to take a faulty memory for an answer and angered by charges a powerful congressman tried to kill their probe 16 months ago.

The decision to seek more answers Monday from former Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was made by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff. Ribicoff said Friday the late Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, intervened actively but futilely to suppress official interest in Cole's activities.

The charge came midway in a day of testimony in which the former general continued to proclaim his innocence of some allegations of wrongdoing in dealings with PXs and service clubs in Vietnam. Cole said he was not involved in a bad swigs Monday from former Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was made by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff. Ribicoff said Friday the late Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, intervened actively but futilely to generals on a silver cigarette box presented to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

Westmoreland returned the box to Cole last April and demanded a hand-signed receipt for it.

Cole said the cigarette box was donated by officers in the pacification program in Vietnam when Westmoreland left his position as U.S. military commander. He said Crum intercepted Cole's Vietnamese secretary on her way to the engravers and placed his own name on the bottom of the list.

No Explanation

The former general, who testified he knew Crum only casually, gave no explanation why Crum knew of the gift or why he would want his name on it.

About an hour after Cole's testimony began, he brought up the name of Rep. Rivers. Cole said the congressman, who died last Dec. 28, tried in September 1969 to set up a telephone conversation with Cole at his duty station in Heidelberg, Germany.

Cole said he had been having a hard time getting his viewpoint across in the early days of the Senate investigation and feared being "sold down the river."

Further Involvement

But Ribicoff said Rivers' involvement went much farther than Cole said.

Saying Rivers had vouched for Cole as an "old friend," Ribicoff pointed at Cole and declared: "Mendel Rivers did not intervene in your behalf to try and stop this investigation and Mendel Rivers did not succeed."

Ribicoff said Rivers called him twice to indicate it would be better if the Cole case were dropped.

The senator's aides said a River's assistant also made calls and at least one said the congressman, who died last Dec. 28, tried in September

For the rest of the day, senators pressed Cole for answers to allegations he intervened at least 43 times in Vietnam to aid business interests dealing with PXs and military clubs.

Standard Answer

Cole, now a retired colonel, answered many questions in a way that pitted his recollection and declaration of innocence against a score or more of Army investigators, former associates and officers up to the grade of four-star general.

To others he responded with a series of standard answers: "I do not recall," "I do not recollect," or "I have only a vague recollection."

At day's end, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., who told Cole Wednesday he might face perjury charges if he failed to explain basic contradictions between his account and sworn testimony of other witnesses, said he had found no reason to change his mind.

"Your lack of candor, your evasiveness, and despite an apparently high IQ, your convenient lack of memory have left my frustration second only to the frustration of the American people," Percy said.

New Government Forming in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — harmed five days later President Cevdet Sunay began forming a new government to replace the cabinet ousted by the coup. The new government was formed by the military and his cabinet members. The four generals who overthrew Demirel's fall government pulled off the coup d'etat by using a communique accusing the premier's Justice party of letting the nation drift into anarchy.

Sunay will meet with leaders of Turkey's political parties today. It is believed he will try to form a coalition government headed by an independent member to the military.

The generals said the new government must have enough respect among the people to halt disorders that have swept Turkey. Otherwise, they promised, the military will seize power.

Home, Family Council Head Plans to Resign

Decision Follows Agency Move To State Authority

MADISON (AP) — The state Home and Family Council's executive director will resign June 30 as the result of a move by the body Friday to rescind recent action which gave him some authority and responsibility which had been vested in a committee.

Nester C. Kohut's resignation, coincides with the end of the fiscal year. Gov. Patrick Lucv's budget calls for abolishing the committee and replacing it with a joint advisory committee of the Legislature with a research director. Kohut indicated he might be interested in heading the reorganized group.

A council member, Judge Harold Traeger of Juneau, stomped out of the meeting following the council's action, but later returned at the urging of other members.

"Resign Too"

"I think I ought to resign, too," he said, "I'm tendering my resignation right now. Everything I've tried to do is gone. We've taken away from this man the power to conduct this organization."

Traeger later said he would stay on the council if it reviewed its action. So the group went into executive session to discuss his concerns, and named a four-member committee to report to the council April 22 on ways to rework its "guidelines and principles."

In other action, the council passed a resolution against abortion and against making birth control devices available to unmarried persons. It called for more study on the question of legitimizing by law children conceived through artificial insemination.

Richard Q. Scott of Virgoque, who is Vernon County's welfare director, opposed the majority on the abortion issue, saying unwanted children were factors in many welfare and divorce cases.

Your Problems They Are Shocked by Words of His Will

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS My father-in-law passed away recently. My husband was the only one in the family who was left out of the will. Last night his mother told me the reason I am still in a state of shock. She said, "Dad never believed you two were legally married." He also was sure you were part Negro and trying to pass.

My husband is so mad he can't see straight. I'm just numb. There is no truth to either of these claims. We can't understand where Dad got such ideas. We were married in 1952 in the Panama Canal Zone by a minister. None of the family could come to the wedding because they were all in California and it was too expensive a trip. But we do have a marriage license and I think we should show it to my mother-in-law. My husband says he is not going to show DETROIT (AP) — The first unmarried man in Michigan to adopt a child, social studies teacher Allan R. Kerr, has adopted a second son.

He brought 9-year-old John into his home last week. Allan, 10, came to Kerr's home last year after being shuttled from one foster home to another. Caught up in the love of a father and a kennel full of Labrador retrievers, he thrived.

He went from a D to a B average at school, grew three inches and gained almost 30 pounds. He took top honors in a swimming class and won junior honors as a dog handler in shows.

Judge Affirms Terry Moore's Stupidity Rights

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Court has rejected an attempt by the mother of actress Terry Moore to be named conservator of Miss Moore's assets.

The mother, Luella B. Koford, 61, said in a petition her 42-year-old daughter was being influenced by "an artful and designing person" and could no longer manage her resources of $190,000 and an interest in a $225,000 Beverly Hills home.

Judge Steven S. Weisman said Wednesday "people have a constitutional right to be stupid" but advised Miss Moore "to act your age."

Mrs. Koford said Dennis Ray Tector, 33, a swimming pool maintenance man, was influencing the actress to deplete her assets.

Miss Moore is separated from her third husband Stuart W. Cramer.

them anything — they can think what they want.

I'd like your advice, Ann — Stunned Louise.

Dear Louise: Don't allow yourselves to be put in the position of defendants. You do not owe them proof, and you demean yourselves when you offer it. Either they accept you or they don't. If they don't, skip it — and skip them, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS

The subject of obesity appears in your column almost as often as sex. While weight control is very important for esthetic and general health reasons, I wonder how many people realize that being fat can spell the difference between life and death.

As a radiologist I can tell you that serious diagnostic errors can be made when the symptoms are obscured by mounds of fat. Excessive needle-probing is required. This can be uncomfortable and unsatisfactory. Furthermore, x-ray machines have trouble penetrating the depths, requiring increased amounts of radiation exposure. Even then, fine-detailed radiographs so vital to accurate diagnosis cannot be made.

Finally, when the diagnosis is made, a surgeon is reluctant to operate on an obese patient unless there is an emergency. In addition to the increased manual labor, the post-operative course is often stormy and uncertain.

I implore all those with any degree of overweight to shed their pounds and give themselves and their physicians a better-than-even chance. Everyone gets sick some day.

—Oklahoma Radiologist

Dear O.R.: Thanks for those strong words. If your admonition isn't enough to make the grossly overweight readers pass up the gravy and chocolate fudge cake tonight, they should admit they are compulsive eaters and get outside help.

DEAR ANN LANDERS. I read in today's newspaper of a nine-year-old boy who burned to death in a gasoline explosion while helping his father clean motorcycle parts.

Please use your column to inform all the shade-tree mechanics that gasoline, paint thinner, acetone and similar solvents are highly volatile and should never be used indoors. Fumes can ignite from a hot water tank, a gas

Senate Unanimous in Social Security Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — With unanimous Senate approval under their belt, congressional leaders are pushing to get a $5-billion Social Security increase onto President Nixon's desk by Tuesday.

That schedule would boost Social Security checks of 26 million Americans by 10 to 56 per cent, effective last Jan. 1. The employers. The Social Security increases would show up in checks mailed the first of June. By an 82-0 vote, the Senate Friday adopted an amendment raising the national debt limit.

Sponsors said they will try to arrange a Senate-House conference on the measure for Monday afternoon, work out a quick compromise and then get the final version through both houses the next day.

Accept Increase

The House is considered certain to accept the 10-per-cent increase voted by the Senate. But, based on past experience, it is expected to reject the $100 minimum monthly payment for an individual which would mean a much bigger boost for those at the bottom of the scale. The present minimum is $64.

It is understood the House also is ready to accept the Senate's method of paying for the higher benefits.

This would raise the taxable wage base from $7,800 to $9,000, starting in 1972, and increase the tax rate gradually starting in 1976.

Present Law

It would provide for an eventual rate of 6.5 per cent each for worker and employer in 1987 and thereafter instead of 5.9 per cent as under present law.

Under present law, payments for individuals retiring this year at age 65 range from $64 to $193.70, and from $96 to $290.60 for couples. The Senate bill would raise this to $100 to $213.10 for individuals and $150 to $319.70 for couples.

The Senate bill contains two other liberalizations of Social Security.

Special Payments

One would boost by 5 per cent special payments to a limited group of 600,000 persons 72 and over who do not qualify for regular Social Security benefits.

The other would allow persons retired under Social Security to earn up to $2,400 a year without loss of any benefits. The ceiling now is $1,680.

The bill to which the Social Security provisions are attached would raise the national debt limit to $430 billion, an all-time record and $35 billion above the present ceiling.

The administration has said it needs this increase by Tuesday to avoid embarrassment to the Treasury in meeting government obligations.

Could't Break Into Jail

Patience Saves 60 Days

MIAMI (AP) — Sammy Lee Fleming waited around the Dade County Courthouse all day Friday, trying to turn himself in to start a 60-day jail term. But nobody would take him.

He walked out of the building a free man Friday evening after a judge decided that anyone who would put up with that much red tape to accept his punishment deserved a second chance.

Fleming pleaded guilty several days ago to buying, receiving and concealing stolen goods. He said he had paid some teen-agers $20 for four stolen tires.

But the 28-year-old Fleming's wife had just given birth, so the judge allowed him to wait until Friday before reporting to jail.

Too Busy

When he showed up at 9:30 a.m. to start his sentence, he said, the jailers told him they were too busy to take him right away and told him to wait.

Fleming waited outside a courtroom and tried periodically to get sent to jail. But each time the jailers brushed him aside, he said.

A spokesman said later none of the jailers involved

was available for comment.

Fleming was still waiting nervously when he was noticed by an assistant public defender, Roy Black.

Black found out what Fleming was waiting for, then went into the courtroom and told Judge Alfonso C. Sepe, "This man deserves a chance. Anybody else would have been gone by now."

The judge agreed and reduced Fleming's sentence to probation.

After nine hours in the building, a happy Fleming shook hands with Black, then went home to his wife and child.

Some Troops to Remain After Withdrawal

End to Laos Action Seen in About 2 Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese field officers said today at a command post near the Laos border that the major portion of the operation in Laos will end in about two weeks but that some troops will remain behind at border posts.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from Ham Nghi that Brig. Gen. Pham Van Phu, commanding the 3rd Regiment at Fire Support Base Delta One, 10 miles inside Laos from the frontier, told newsmen his Division had decimated Hanoi's 559th Logistics Command, a 25,000-man force responsible for Hanoi's Ho Chi Minh trail supply network through southern Laos.

Phu said his division has engaged four of the eight units of the logistics command operating south of Highway 9, and "we have destroyed them 50 to 80 per cent."

Base Sophia

Esper said some of the troops that left Sepone on Friday were drawing closer to the border today, including Phu's 2nd Regiment. Its headquarters joined the 3rd Regiment at Fire Support Base Delta One, 10 miles inside Laos from the frontier. The 2nd had been at the now abandoned Fire Support Base Sophia, about 24 miles southeast of Sepone and three miles southeast of Sepone.

Field officers said current plans call for the South Vietnamese to return to the border by April because expected rain and fog will make U.S. air support virtually impossible.

The farthest into Laos the South Vietnamese went was to Sepone, a major objective 25 miles west of the border along Highway 9. The field officers said troops of the 1st Infantry Division met only light resistance today as they began the final phase of the operation.

The division's objective is to search Route 914, one of three major road networks in the Ho Chi Minh trail. The highway runs between Sepone to Muong Chi Minh trail. The highway joins a third key road, Highway 192. When the South Vietnamese moved into the Sepone area a week ago, North Vietnam bypassed that transshipment point with its supplies in favor of Route 914.

Under Attack

The entire area has been under heavy attack by U.S. B-52 bombers, and earlier this week South Vietnamese advance elements reported finding nearly 500 North Vietnamese bodies and huge quantities of war supplies destroyed by one strike.

In Saigon, meanwhile, a government spokesman said the South Vietnamese will use helicopter troop lifts to keep pressure on the supply network despite Friday's pullback from the Sepone area. "We are still in the area and will rely on helicopter mobility to maintain our initiative," the spokesman said.

A staff officer agreed. "We don't need to stay at Sepone," he said. "We don't want to be in the position of sitting ducks. We want to keep mobile."

The Saigon forces claimed a major victory when they took Sepone but did not occupy it because its location in a valley makes it a natural target for artillery and ground attacks.

Hanoi Knew

A North Vietnamese defector told a news conference Friday that Hanoi knew about the Laos invasion long before it began and placed 30,000 troops around Sepone. But the commander of American forces supporting the South Vietnamese, Lt. Gen. James W. Sutherland Jr., told correspondent Esper only three enemy regiments are around Sepone now and they are "sort of beaten up... not in good shape."

Spokesmen in the northern South Vietnam base camp of Quang Tri claimed today the operation in Laos has resulted in 11 North Vietnamese dead for every South Vietnamese soldier killed. Their casualty figures listed 8,000 enemy and 726 South Vietnamese killed. There have been 2,736 South Vietnamese wounded, and 158 enemy soldiers, 1,057 crew-served weapons and 3,442 individual weapons captured, they said.

More Answers to be Sought

Senators Dissatisfied With Cole Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — An ex-general has been ordered to a third day of interrogation by senators unwilling to take a faulty memory for an answer and angered by charges a powerful congressman tried to kill their probe 16 months ago.

The decision to seek more answers Monday from former Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was made by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff. Ribicoff said Friday the late Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, intervened actively but futilely to suppress official interest in Cole's activities.

The charge came midway in a day of testimony in which the former general continued to proclaim his innocence of some allegations of wrongdoing in dealings with PXs and service clubs in Vietnam. Cole said of other allegations that a bad memory prevented him from remembering any details.

Westmoreland Gift Cole did remember how the name of William J. Crum, once S.C. chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, in-whisky salesman in Vietnam, was engraved with those of generals on a silver cigarette box presented to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

Westmoreland returned the box to Cole last April and demanded a hand-signed receipt for it.

Cole said the cigarette box was donated by officers in the pacification program in Vietnam when Westmoreland left his position as U.S. military commander. He said Crum intercepted Cole's Vietnamese secretary on her way to the engineers and placed his own name on the bottom of the list.

No Explanation

The former general, who testified he knew Crum only casually, gave no explanation how Crum knew of the gift or why he would want his name on it.

About an hour after Cole's testimony began, he brought up the name of Rep. Rivers. Cole said the congressman, who died last Dec. 28, tried in September

1969 to set up a telephone conversation with Cole at his duty station in Heidelberg, Germany. Cole said he had been having a hard time getting his viewpoint across in the early days of the Senate investigation and feared being "sold down the river."

Further Involvement

But Ribicoff said Rivers' involvement went much farther than Cole said.

Saying Rivers had vouched for Cole as an "old friend," Ribicoff pointed at Cole and declared: "Mendel Rivers did intervene in your behalf to try and stop this investigation and Mendel Rivers did not succeed."

Ribicoff said Rivers called him twice to indicate it would be better if the Cole case were dropped. The senator's aides said a River's assistant also made calls and at least one said the congressman, who died last Dec. 28, tried in September

For the rest of the day, senators pressed Cole for answers to allegations he intervened at least 43 times in Vietnam to aid business interests dealing with PXs and military clubs.

Standard Answer

Cole, now a retired colonel, answered many questions in a way that pitted his recollection and declaration of innocence against a score or more of Army investigators, former associates and officers up to the grade of four-star general.

To others he responded with a series of standard answers: "I do not recall," "I do not recollect," or "I have only a vague recollection."

At day's end, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., who told Cole Wednesday he might face perjury charges if he failed to explain basic contradictions between his account and sworn testimony of other witnesses, said he had found no reason to change his mind.

"Your lack of candor, your evasiveness, and despite an apparently high IQ, your convenient lack of memory have left my frustration second only to the frustration of the American people," Percy said.

New Government Forming in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — harmed five days later. President Cevdet Sunay began forming a new government to replace the one that fell after Premier Suleyman Demirel and his cabinet resigned to avoid a military takeover.

The four generals who maneuvered Demirel's fall reported. Editorial writers and columnists greeted the overthrow of the premier's Justice party with silence or approval. Turkey's largest daily, "Hurriyet," hailed the move as a necessary step in protecting the republic.

Sunay will meet with leaders of Turkey's political parties Sunday. It is believed he will try to form a coalition government headed by an independent, acceptable to the military.

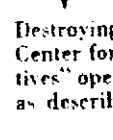

The generals said the new government must have enough respect among the people to sweep half disorders that have swept Turkey. Otherwise, they promised, the military will seize power.

Released Unarmed Some of the demonstrators by students and leftists have been aimed at the United States and its alliance with Turkey in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Four American airmen were kidnapped last week and released on the National Security Council.

Charges, Countercharges Issued

Razor Blade Ad Causes Complaints

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cities. Besides issuing an unfair-trade complaint against Philip Morris, the FTC said it will seek an unprecedented court injunction against the ad campaign.

Charles Wilson, head of the American Safety Razor Division, said the complaints the Federal Trade Commission Bureau of Consumer Protection said, where the advertising campaign is not to begin until Friday were inspired by described children who grabbed blades before the first batch of City, Mo.; Minneapolis and Oklahoma City.

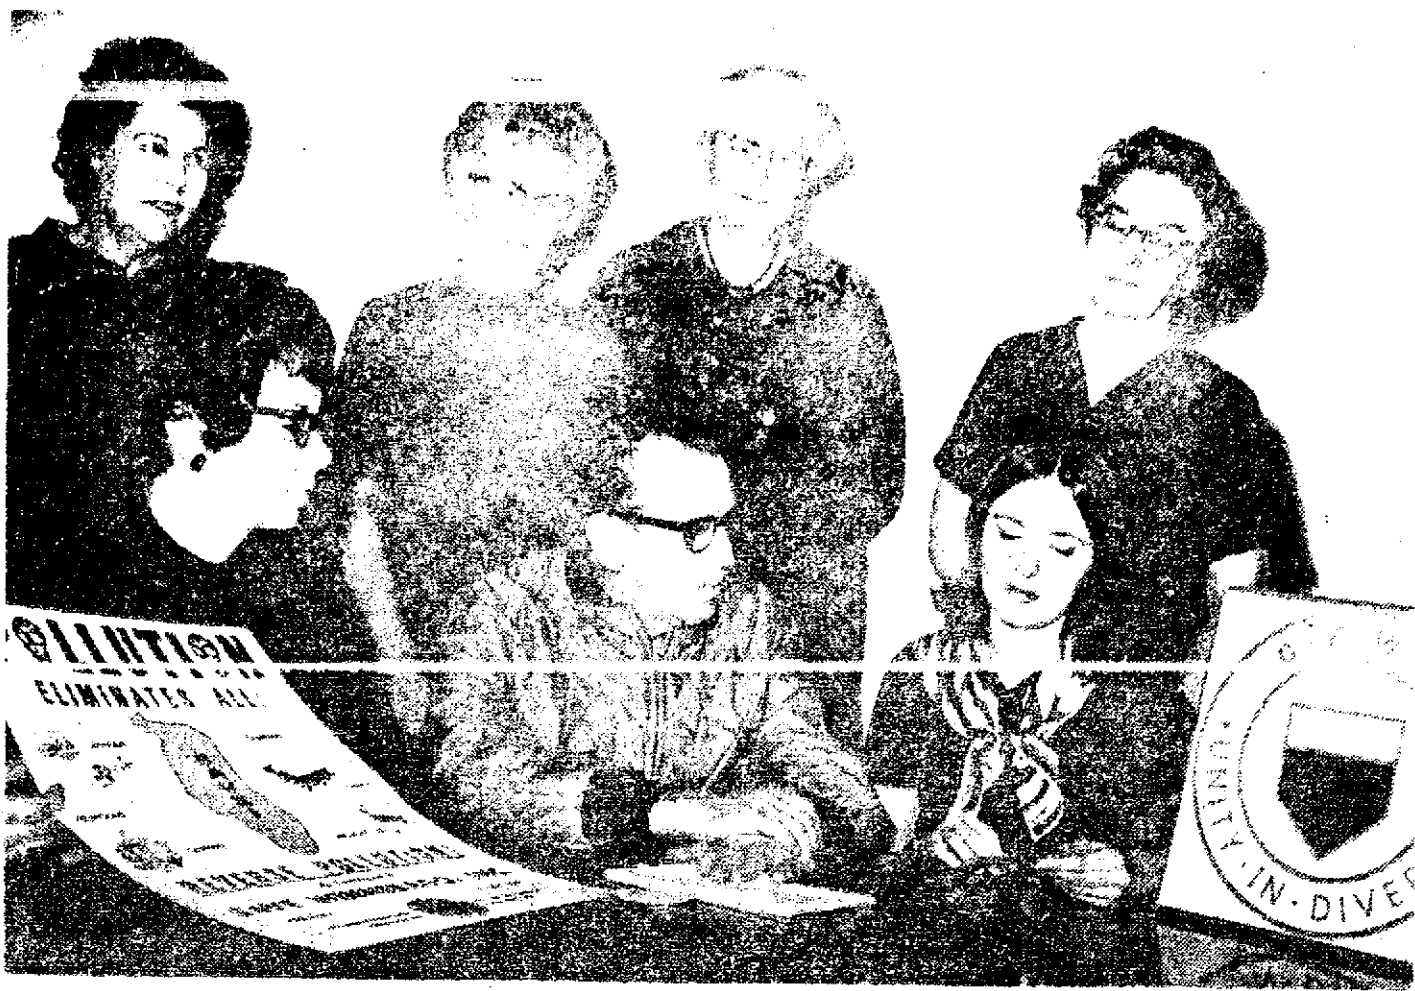

At issue is an advertising campaign in which millions of had them. There have been last Sunday's papers reached the streets. He told also of a Doberman Pinscher dog in Miami said in more than a dozen have died after eating a newspaper containing the insert. Wilson said the woman claiming to own the Doberman told him she was asked "Yes, indeed, I have," he said.

Some of the complaints came from Minneapolis, Minn., he in 10 papers last Sunday. This advertising Sunday it had been scheduled in papers in Akron, Ohio; Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio, Texas.

However, the Oklahoma City San Antonio Express and Light said they have rejected the ad.

Ag Committee Divided on Plan for County Nutritionist

Plans for hiring a full-time nutritionist and a staff of part-time and volunteer workers drew divided opinion Friday from the Outagamie County Agriculture Committee.

The nutritionist would work in the University of Wisconsin extension office which is supervised by the committee.

After hearing the plan, committee members decided to examine a similar program in Brown County.

Dr. Marlys Richert, Madison, state program leader for women's and family living education, called the program "quite a comprehensive approach."

Teach Families

It would attempt to teach families with limited funds how to purchase and prepare low-cost food.

Although the program is directed toward families with "limited funds," it is not strictly for those receiving welfare payments or other aid. "There are lots of families that are in you might say, the marginal level," said Dr. Richert.

The program would attack malnutrition in two ways, according to Dr. Frank Campbell, Madison, state program leader for 4-H and youth development.

Housewives would receive individual attention and guidance and youth programs would show youngsters how to properly solve nutritional problems.

He said 21 Wisconsin counties now are participating in the program.

Campbell recommended hiring the nutritionist who, he said, would conduct her program with the aid of an estimated 20 part-time workers. Volunteer workers also would be used.

"There seems to be an awful lot of structure involved in this thing," said Joe Kasparek, route 1, Black Creek, chairman of the committee.

"I can see an awful, awful problem in selling this to the board," he said.

Campbell noted that 60 percent of the salary of a nutritionist would be paid by state and federal aid and that federal funds would cover the cost of part-time assistants.

The workers may assist a family from six months to a year, according to Dr. Richert, although she commented that the average duration of aid is hard to determine.

Support For Plan

Alice Schultz, Outagamie County home economist, supported the plan. Thinking of a nutritionist to aid residents living near Bear Creek, Oneida and Shiocton, she said. "I think our county needs the program."

Fred Rehfeldt, 1716 N. Harrison St., a committee member, said the program could curb the losses of surplus commodity foods.

The need for the program was questioned, by George Driessen, 312 E. Calumet St. "I can't believe there are that many people that don't know how to cook."

"I'll never vote for it," he declared, saying there are too many overlapping duties in the county offices.

William Pirang, assistant director of the county department of social services, noted the program could aid those now receiving surplus commodity foods.

"I can see where it's going to benefit but I'm going to take a hard look at it," said Henry Breiting, route 2, New London.

New Squad Car Sideswiped at Chilton Friday

CHILTON — The new city squad car was damaged to the left rear side and front when it was hit by a car driven by Michael Schaefer, 20, 348 N. State St., at 6:20 p.m. Friday.

According to police, the Schaefer auto was traveling north on N. Madison Street when it struck the parked squad car in the rear and sideswiped it along the left side. The Schaefer car came to rest in front of the squad car.

Policeman Garnett Peterson, who was in the patrol car, complained of a leg and arm injury and was treated at Calumet Memorial Hospital.

The Schaefer vehicle was damaged on the right side.

Thief Clubs Policeman At Seymour

Officer Hit While Preventing Theft Of Color TV Sets

SEYMOUR — A city patrolman was knocked unconscious Friday morning by an unknown assailant while investigating a suspected break-in at the Seymour Transfer Co. here.

Patrolman Edward Kaczowski, 25, was released Friday morning from St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay where he had been taken for x-rays. He was transported to the hospital about 5 a.m. by ambulance.

Kaczowski, they said, went onto the loading dock of the firm when he noticed the rear door of the truck trailer ajar, about 5 a.m. Friday. A stranger clubbed him with a fence post inflicting a wound above the eye. Kaczowski, according to Chief Will Mamerow, lay unconscious until being discovered on the dock by an employee of the firm about 6 a.m.

Authorities said the post was the type used to hold fork lift trucks in place on the dock.

Outagamie County investigators found a boxed color television set, one of 16 that had been loaded on the truck, standing on the platform and the carton had been ripped open.

Another crated television set was discovered halfway in and out of the same door.

Authorities said entry was not made to the building.

The other 14 sets remained on the truck, investigators reported.

Courthouse Elevator Too Slow?

A new, faster elevator may be installed in the Outagamie County Courthouse.

The present elevator, installed when the building was constructed more than 30 years ago, travels at a leisurely pace from the basement to the third-floor jail.

Members of the county board's special building committee agreed that a faster elevator would be necessary to handle more public traffic.

The clincher in the argument came when the committee, along with other county officials decided to inspect the jail. The elevator, with a listed capacity of 22 people, couldn't quite make it to the fourth floor with 14 passengers. They had to back down a floor and leave off several passengers before making a successful second try.

The treasurer, register of deeds, county clerk and abstractor have related functions. In addition, Woeblert said he would like to move the map maker's office now in the basement of the annex, closer to the abstractor's office since both work from much of the same material.

No decisions were made by the committee which confined itself to a physical inspection of the various offices.

Courthouse Shuffle?

Space Problems Confront Departments

A version of musical chairs continued Friday as Outagamie County officials discovered there isn't enough room on the main floor of the courthouse to give all of the departments who want to be there the amount of space they want.

The board's special building committee met with Treasurer Peter Berg, Register of Deeds Dominic Preters, Abstractor Wilbert Vandenberg and Clerk of Courts Gloria Johnson to attempt to decide who gets what space.

Now, the offices of county clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, abstractor, highway department and administrator and the county board room on the main floor.

The highway department room will move to its own office building at the county garage, opening up that space for other offices.

Shuffle

With construction of the new jail building, officials were considering locating the abstractor's and register of deeds' offices in the present highway office and moving the clerk of courts' office and law library from the next floor into the abstractor and register of deeds' offices for better coordination between the courts in the two buildings.

But Mrs. Johnson informed the special building committee that this would not give her enough space.

As an alternative, she suggested that her office and the law library, which will become a courtroom, be moved up to the old jail on the top floor.

The proposal was met with less than enthusiasm by most on the committee.

Related Departments

One of the problems facing the committee is County Administrator Alvin Woeblert's desire to keep related departments together.

The treasurer, register of deeds, county clerk and abstractor have related functions. In addition, Woeblert said he would like to move the map maker's office now in the basement of the annex, closer to the abstractor's office since both work from much of the same material.

No decisions were made by the committee which confined itself to a physical inspection of the various offices.

Housing Site for FVTI Students Is Questioned

A proposal for private development of housing for students who would be attending the new Fox Valley Technical Institute (FVTI) was presented to the Outagamie County Board's Public Property and Parks Committee Thursday night, but the presentation raised as many questions as it answered.

Mrs. Barbara Kennedy, housing planner for the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, told the committee that surveys indicate there is need for housing for 80 students for this fall and for about 1,500 students by 1980.

The catch is that the site recommended by Northeastern added sewer service to the site but the average duration of aid is hard to determine.

Sirek denied Friday that he would recommend dropping the option. He said the land would be discussed Monday night because the board has to make a decision on whether it will exercise the option which expires May 23.

But, he emphasized, he was not making any recommendation to the FVTI board on dropping the option.

Sirek agreed that there will be a need for some student housing as the school develops. However, he added, the vocational district was not going to get involved with housing. Any housing would have to be private development, he said.

Mrs. Kennedy said four private developers have shown a definite interest in such a development which, she said, would have a $7 million taxable base when completed.

The four, Otto Hanson Co., Brookfield; Smith-Pilgreen Construction and Realty, Inc., Neenah; Robert Niebauer, architect, Middleton; and Theodore Uitschig and Son, Inc., Appleton, made presentations to Northeastern at a meeting they called Wednesday night.

Only Mrs. Lori Kern, president of Smith-Pilgreen, returned Thursday night.

Mrs. Kern said that a key consideration in any housing development was land and site preparation cost.

She said if raw land cost went above $2,000 per acre, a low-cost development would not be feasible.

As envisioned by the planners, there would be no dormitory housing at FVTI. Rather, there would be single-story, apartment-type housing, with each unit serving four to eight students.

Mrs. Kern estimated development costs would be $6,000 to $8,000 per acre, in addition to the land purchase cost and construction costs.

If the total price for land and site development exceeded the $3,000 to $10,000 per-acre figure, it would not be possible to provide housing at the $65 to $75 per-month rent per student that had been discussed at Northeastern's Wednesday night meeting.

Ira Livingston, Town of Grand Chute chairman, said he did not think there would be any major problem in providing sanitary sewer service to the site but he added he wishes he could buy 103 acres in that area for the $2,000 per acre maximum mentioned.

Supv. Eugene Kloes said the going rate for raw land in that area is about $3,500 per acre.

The FVTI option is for $2,800 per acre, the same price that Koehring Co. paid the county for neighboring land six years ago.

Livingston said the town would be happy to have a $7 million development but added that any developer should be required to show solid financial backing. "I have seen too many half-completed projects," he said.

Reservations were expressed by several members of the county board's executive committee, who also were present.

Supv. George Kroes, Town of Vandenberg, said, "I think we're a long way from being ready to sell that land. We don't know our own needs."

Supv. Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, also questioned the need. He said there are plans for a 400-unit mobile home park in that area which could solve some of the housing and what standards would be used and how deeply the county would become involved in such a development.

Public Property Committee Chairman Nick Karras agreed. Karras said a decision would be made Thursday as to what to do immediately. Left unanswered were such questions as what standards would be used and how deeply the county would become involved in such a development.

What Does It Take To be a Policeman?

WAUPACA — What are the requirements to become a policeman? The question is simple, the answers are fairly cut and dried, unless . . .

The question was posed to pupils at the Waupaca Elementary School. Then there are some very strange results.

One pupil mentioned 10 requirements for the job.

— You have to be rough and tough.

— You have to have a belt with a lot of hooks on to carry all the equipment.

— You need a stick.

— You need a gun.

— You need a snazzed up motorcycle.

— You will need a crash helmet.

— You will have to be able to lock people up.

— If young you need a motorcycle that is fast. If old you need a motorcycle that is slow.

— You should act like a dog and chase cars.

For another student the person applying for a policeman's job would have a lot of travel and excitement ahead of him.

— First of all you must be over three feet tall without shoes and stockings on.

— Next you have to catch five robbers single handed that are robbing a bank.

— After that you must go to Africa where the cannibals and headhunters are and stay there for a week. That's to toughen you up.

— Next you have to go in a pit that is 10 feet deep with three lions in it and you must kill them.

— If you have long hair like a hippy you must get it cut.

— There is absolutely (sic) no drinking on (sic) the job.

— Next you have to go to a school and learn.

With these requirements it is no wonder city's are finding it hard to recruit men for police work.

Calumet County Dairy Leaders Launch Milk Advertising Program

CHILTON — Dairy leaders of Calumet County officially launched its MAPP (Milk Advertising Promotion Program) campaign in the agricultural suite at the court house Thursday evening.

About 35 Calumet county dairymen attended the meeting. The program calls for 100 percent participation in milk and dairy products advertising and research.

Under the program, there would be a two cents per hundred check-off on milk delivered to the dairy plant. In order to put the program over, 51 percent of the state's dairymen would need to petition the State Secretary of Agriculture to start the program.

Committees have been organized in each Calumet County town and they have petitions and will canvass dairymen for signatures in their municipalities.

Chairman of the campaign for the county is Ralph Steiner, who urges that the job get done by April 3.

County Agent Orrin Meyer explained the mechanics of the program. "The majority of the dairy leaders favor the program," he pointed out. The needs for research and promotion were also pointed out.

According to Meyer, if the program goes into effect, the three and a half million dollars collected will be allocated by the State Secretary of Agriculture upon recommendation by the 30-man advisory committee elected by the dairymen.

Barney Ruffing, Stockbridge, has been nominated as a candidate to the Advisory Board. Calumet, along with Fond du Lac and Manitowoc compose a district.

Wilford Turba, Sheboygan County dairyman, was guest speaker for the program. Turba goes into effect, the voluntary speaker for the program. Turba pointed out that once MAPP goes into effect, the voluntary check-off of the American Dairy Association will cease.

Turba pointed out with statistics how imports of dairy products into the United States were drastically cut. In answer to the question, "Why don't the retailers advertise?" Turba replied, "the dairyman has 90 percent of the investment and stands to lose the most. Processors can always go to the marketing substitutes," he added.

Also speaking on the program was Earl Lintner, Calumet County's Farmer of the Year, who said "Let's give it a whirl for three years."

Lunch and refreshments were served following the meeting.

Early Action Urged to Curb Pollution

WAUPACA — Waupaca Area Council of Government members were urged Thursday to take some positive action before the Chain O'Lakes became badly polluted.

Stephen Born, project leader of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission warned that after the fact treatment costs a lot of money and often is too late.

The University of Wisconsin Extension representative made his second appearance here to project work with local officials to pinpoint the area's environmental problems and seek solutions.

There was some misunderstanding as to the nature of the commission's projects after the audience viewed a film of previous projects in which the areas of building were controlled. Some homeowners on the lakes were concerned that their residences would be condemned and have to be moved.

Different Problems

Born explained that the Waupaca area's problems were different from those shown on the film, and stressed that the commission could make no suggestions until surveys were taken and the group determined if it would or could handle the project.

Some of the areas Born listed that the commission might help with were the Chain O'Lakes were water quality evaluation including the impact of septic systems and surface water runoff; surface water uses and waste disposal options for cottages and homeowners involved in a proposed sanitation district.

"We need a study to see what the effects are and to assess the nature of the problems," he said, adding that perhaps there are unknown problems in addition to those already obvious.

Limited Budget

One of the commission's features, he pointed out, is that it attempts to run on a limited budget, using local resources and volunteer labor to accomplish its goals. All projects are action ones, with just two years to show results, he said.

There are two types of projects undertaken by the group, according to Born. One is the "in-lake" type, which is carried out after the problem exists in an attempt to correct it. In this area would be contamination, sedimentation, and nutrient enrichment of the water.

The other type of project is preventative, providing alternatives for development of the lakes and making studies of problems in their earliest stages so that reversals are not necessary.

In their work, commission members try to set up a quality project rather than many and to gain technology and knowledge. "We have to stop rumors and get facts," Born stated.

Among the projects he felt the commission might tackle in the area were the question of pollution in the lakes and the septic tank problem.

Terrors, Rockets Reach Sectional Finals

West Impressive in 79-58 Victory Over Clintonville '5'

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

GREEN BAY — Appleton West, an unstoppable whirlwind for better than half the game and a coolly competent basketball team the rest of the time, crushed Clintonville, 79-58, here Friday night to move within one step of earning an encore berth in the state tournament.

It didn't matter if the name of the game was defense, rebounding or shooting, the defending state champion Terrors excelled in them all with a convincing display of power basketball before a sectional tournament turn-out of 5,128 fans in the Brown County Arena.

West (18-4) puts its sectional title on the line at about 8:45 p.m. today against Green Bay East (15-7) in a duel for state tournament qualification.

Clintonville (18-5) meets Crivitz (19-4) at 7 p.m. for sectional consolation honors.

Take 33-13 Lead

The Terrors were particularly awesome in the first 13 minutes last night as they roared to a 33-13 lead. This removed the doubt about the game's outcome even though the shorter Truckers gave it a whale of a try all the way.

Coach Dick Emanuel was especially pleased by West's first-half performance (in which the Terrors scored 39 points and limited the Clints to 23) but was somewhat disturbed by what he called "relaxed defensive play" in the second half. The Truckers poured in 35 points after intermission and were effective from long range.

4 in Double Figures

In winning their sixth straight game, and 13th in the last 14 starts, the Terrors again featured tough-to-defense scoring balance (four players reached double figures): they again shot 0.64 accuracy (54.7 per cent) that erodes opponents' morale; and they again achieved a substantial rebounding edge (43 to 29).

Rich Reitzner, West's sterling outside shooter and point-man on several fast breaks, sank 10 of 19 floor attempts enroute to a 22-point night. Tim Moriarty, who sat out 4½ minutes of the first half after contracting his third foul, connected on seven of 10 shots and contributed a total of 16 points.

Like Chestnut added 15 points for West and gave an eye-popping demonstration of board power. The high-jumping junior gathered in 18 rebounds — including nine in an extraordinary first quarter.

Tallies 10 Points

Carl Joosten hit double figures in a reserve role for the second straight time. He tallied 10 points and helped considerably in the rebounding chores.

Two of the Truckers gave exceptionally fine performances as the team sought to avenge last year's 46-44 sectional loss to the Terrors. Craig LeBeau was brilliant from long range, as he scored 21 points. He earned seven of 11 in the second half and 10-for-19 for the game.

The 6-2 Mark Heideman tallied 16 points — including 8-of-10 from the foul line and pulled in nine rebounds despite giving away height to the Terrors' sizable front line.

Clintonville's strategy was revealed early, as the Truckers took the opening tip and controlled the ball for nearly 45 seconds before Randy Nelson fired from 15 feet — and connected. (It proved to be the Truckers' lone lead). Coach Carl Bruggink felt a deliberate style was his team's only chance since the Clints didn't figure to be able to "run" with the Terrors.

The Truckers, however, were quickly forced into a catch-up situation, as West tossed in four straight baskets for an 8-2 lead. Moriarty's pivot shot tied the score. Reitzner then hit the target from the right corner, for a 4-2 lead, with 6:09 left in the first quarter. Chestnut dropped a 15-footer and Moriarty succeeded from 12 feet out before Heideman put the Truckers back in business with a free throw.

Moriarty had a big (9-point) first quarter, as West sprinted to a 17-17 advantage.

Reduce Deficit

West continued to click on all cylinders, as it outscored Clintonville, 16 to 6, in the first 5:00 of the second quarter boosting the lead to 20 (33-13). The Clints retaliated with their best comeback (four players reached back spurt — outscoring West, 8-0, to reduce the deficit to 12 (33-25). LeBeau and Heideman scored goals, while John Jartz, Mark Smith and Heideman hit free throws.

But Reitzner and Chestnut again found the range, and West's lead was up to 16 (39-23) by halftime.

LeBeau's long-shot artistry enabled the Clints to outscore West, 15-12, in the third quarter, cutting the margin to 13 (51-38). The Terrors unleashed their fast break early in the fourth period and zoomed the lead to 19 (58-39). West hooped 13 of 18 floor attempts in the last quarter, as even the reserves found the mark in the closing minutes. For the game, AHS-W hit 35 of 64 shots. The Clints sank 29 of 59 (.339).

Green Bay East Rolls Over Crivitz, 84-65

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — A good case for the split tournament was authored Friday in the opening game of the Green Bay sectional as Green Bay East had too much of everything for Crivitz, 84-65.

The Red Devils took advantage of the Wolverines' lack of depth throughout as once 6-7 junior Tom Neveln got into foul trouble the Devils had command at will.

Utilizing superior height under the boards the Devils dominated the rebound game and saw three of their big men hit 20 points or better. Mike Bellin paced the attack with 24 points. Pat Hogan rimmed 21 and Tom Heim banged down 20.

Green Bay East carries a 15-7 slate into tonight's championship game against Appleton West (18-4).

Spectacular Shooting

Spectacular shooting in a high-lighted most of the game as both teams shot from long range and dropped the ball through at nearly a 50 per cent rate.

Crivitz hit on 25 of 51 for about 46 per cent, while Green Bay East shot 52 per cent on 36 of 70 floor attempts. The Devils held a 39-23 advantage off the boards.

Neveln was able to hold the Wolverines together while he was in the game, which wasn't much after the first quarter. Crivitz was nearly even in the first quarter but Bellin and Heim dropped in two late baskets as GBE took a 23-17 lead.

Slow Start

Second period action started slowly, but Neveln picked up his second foul early and was tagged with his third with 4:23 left in the half and had to sit out the rest of the period except for a brief appearance late in the session. GBE led 37-32 at intermission.

Neveln returned in the second half and Crivitz closed within two, 41-39, but with 5:27 left in the third stanza he was ejected with his fourth personal and the Devils spurred ahead 55-16 going into the final stanza.

East fired in 12 of 20 floor shots in the final segment as they outscored the losers, 29-19. Ron Koczek led the losers with 19 points. Neveln ended 15 and Arnie Behnke 12.

Late Rally by Manitowoc Ships Tip Kewaunee, 68-60

BY RON WITT

MANITOWOC — Kewaunee's Indians will have to wait another year.

Wisconsin's No. 1-ranked small school quintet, which reached the Green Bay sectional last year before being ousted by eventual state champion Appleton West, had its state tournament hopes dashed again here Friday night by host Manitowoc, 68-60.

It was not an easy victory for the Ships, who trailed the tall invaders, 56-53, with 6:29 left to play. But led by outback guard Rick Fischer's shooting and play-making, the Fox River Valley Conference champions managed for an 11-0 advantage over a 4-minute segment to turn the game around.

After a 5-10 jump ball, Fischer, a 5-10-inch, finished with 25 points to lead both teams in scoring. Ken Robinson, a pumping man of Fischer in the backcourt, drilled 14 points in a career-best performance.

18 For Koehler

Like Koehler, Kewaunee's 6-foot, 4-inch junior center, netted 18 points in leading the Indians. Only four of Koehler's total came in the second half after turning the tide for us.

Explaining the Ships' dilemma in the first half, Fleener told reporters, "The man-to-man press was tiring our big kids out. No. 6 among the large schools, so we had to go to the zone defense. And while Manitowoc, rated No. 6 among the large schools, was showing up its own defense and fall back into the zone."

Manty had another problem in the opening 16 minutes as the starting center, Steve Wetenkamp picked up four fouls. However, Mike Check came off the bench to contribute valuable board strength and nine points.

"I have to see the films of the game before I understand exactly why," he went on softly. "I know we were standing a lot in the first half, and I think that was the key."

Fleener, whose Manitowoc teams have reached the sectional five of the last six years, indicated surprise at some of the courses the contest took. "We thought we could crack them sooner," he asserted. "We credit to their inside kids. They didn't think we'd have to go to a zone defense on our big kids, down to the last minutes with them."

Indians Tired?

Concerning Kewaunee's apparent defensive lapse, Fleener, who also stressed his club's defensive realignment as the big and inside shots, and it looked better in the game. "The turn-in point was the second half game. I thought they were very tired."

Another bit of Kewaunee strategy that left the Manty coach scratching his head was the fact

Neenah Faces Manitowoc After Effortless 77-54 Triumph Over Waupun

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY

MANITOWOC — Laboring methodically, almost effortlessly, Neenah's Rockets dispatched 13 in the contest but five were Waupun, 77-54, Friday night to gain a berth in the Manitowoc WIAA Sectional Tournament finals for the fourth straight year—and the fifth time in the last six.

And for the fourth consecutive campaign, tonight's for will be the host Shipbuilders, 68-60 victors over Kewaunee, No. 1 small school in the state, in Friday's nightcap.

The Rockets, living up to their label as the state's no. 1 rated large school, etched their 22nd straight triumph without too much effort.

To put it simply, the Twin Citizens just had too much height and rebounding strength for the Prison City quintet. They consistently worked the ball inside behind the Waupun zone for layups and when they missed, a number of tips were put back up and through the hoop for a good possession scoring percentage.

Worked Ball Inside

"They didn't have much size and it was awful easy to get the ball inside," Neenah coach Ron Emerson commented after the game.

He said the Rockets did what they wanted to do but later remarked that, at times, his club took too many shots from outside when they could have moved the ball closer to the basket.

"We didn't play defense the first quarter and a half, we didn't play defense," a dejected coach Larry Rackow of Waupun lamented.

Rackow explained that one of the Warriors' objectives was to keep Pete (Jim Petersen, 6-4 center) out of foul trouble but that he picked up two early in the game. Waupun only totaled 13 in the contest but five were put on Petersen, its tallest starter.

'They're Good'

"They're good," was Rackow's simple and frank appraisal of the Fox Valley Association champions.

His athletes matched the Rockets point for point in the early going until at 13-11, the latter's Rick Matson hit two consecutive baskets, a short jump shot and a layup.

Doug Stelsel collected two free throws for Waupun but then Bill Schultz tallied on a tip-in, Ed Hawley connected from the corner and Steve Loker pumped in a jump shot to increase the spread to 10 points. Stelsel chipped the difference by two with his quarter-ending fielder.

It was just about curtains for the upset-minded Warriors at the start of the second segment when the winners notched the first nine points. Matson, Jim Crist, Hawley and Loker all had single baskets and Lew Hollinbeck put in a free throw.

The disastrous period netted the Little Ten Conference representatives seven points and only one basket in 13 attempts. The Rockets had 15, their lowest single quarter point total of the night, but commanded a comfortable 38-22 advantage at the break.

Schultz and Hawley poured in baskets to start the third period action and from then on the spread ranged from 18 to 24 points, including the 59-55 at its finish.

Liquori Tries For Sweep in NCAA Meet

Villanova Senior Jinxed in Title Quest Since 1968

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Villanova's Marty Liquori tries today to match famed Jim Ryun's meet sweep of the mile and two-mile, but the ICAA champion Wildcats may come out an also — ran against a hot fight for the NCAA indoor track title.

Liquori, America's prime 1,500 meter contender for the 1972 Olympics, tackles a meet in the mile run of the 10-vent closing program after a stirring two-mile triumph last night.

Until the smooth-striding Villanova senior exploded a superb finish kick to take the two-mile in a creditable 8:37.1, he had been thwarted in an NCAA indoor title quest since his sophomore year.

Liquori was overshadowed by Ryun, who had swept three mile titles, including 1968 when the Jayhawk great also scored a double by capturing the two-mile.

And last year, with Ryun gone, Liquori was shaded in the mile by William & Mary's Howell Michael whom Marty again dules this afternoon.

After seven finals in yesterday's opening session, Big Ten champion Wisconsin appeared the chief threat to Kansas' try for a third successive team title, although Villanova and Kent State led with 10 points each.

Kansas, whose Karl Salzbarely won his third successive shotput title, and Wisconsin had nine points each, followed by Southern California with 8, and dangerous Texas-El Paso tied with Rutgers and Cal Poly with 6 each.

The team title, won last year by Kansas, 27½ to 26 over Villanova, well could be settled in the two-mile and distance medley relays with Wisconsin and Villanova respective favorites in each.

5 Fox Cities Cagers Make TV-7 Team

WAUSAU — Five Fox Cities area cagers received national status on the Channel 7 all-star teams named this week.

Excellent mention, play narrowly missing the first team, went to Bruce Breitenfeldt, Tigerton; Randy Paulks, Weyauwega, and Goodwin Peterson, Marion.

Special mention honors were accorded Bruce Beversdorf and Harold Mavis, both of Wittenberg-Barnwood.

None of the big school selections was from this area as the larger schools in most cases are considered out of the TV-7 area. The Big School all-star team was headed by Wausau East's Bob Steif and Wisconsin Rapid's Bruce Thomas, repeaters from last year. Others are Dave Gillis and Paul Wotta, Rhinelander, and Dan Krueger, Stevens Point.

The small school first unit was Ken Felzkowski, Athens; Tom Krause, Strafford; Terry Lee Paul, Auburndale; Mark Cook, Crandon, and Paul Hable, Loyal.

for his liberal use of substitutes, seemed to go to his bench more often than usual. By the middle of the last quarter all of his starters were on the bench.

Didn't Use Press

The Rocket strategist played it straight all the way and didn't employ the pesky press that gave Ripon fits in the second half of last week's regional opener and ruined Fond du Lac's hopes in the first half of the championship affair.

As might be expected, because the victors were able to get the ball inside effectively, Schultz and Matson emerged as high scorers with 22 and 18 points, respectively. Hawley chipped in with 12. Reserves accounted for 18.

Make 34 Baskets

Stelsel, the Little Ten Conference's leading scorer, topped Waupun with 15 points but runnerup honors went to Dennis Vande Busche, a sophomore reserve, with 14. Jim Singer, third leading pointmaker in the conference, was limited to nine.

Liquori was overshadowed by Ryun, who had swept three mile titles, including 1968 when the Jayhawk great also scored a double by capturing the two-mile.

And last year, with Ryun gone, Liquori was shaded in the mile by William & Mary's Howell Michael whom Marty again dules this afternoon.

After seven finals in yesterday's opening session, Big Ten champion Wisconsin appeared the chief threat to Kansas' try for a third successive team title, although Villanova and Kent State led with 10 points each.

Committee to Find New Coach For Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A seven-member committee headed by Athletic Director Marsh Rvman was named Friday to find a new basketball coach for the University of Minnesota.

George Hanson resigned Wednesday night after his Gophers had a second-division finish in the Big Ten with a 5-9 record and an 11-13 record for the season. It was his first year as Gopher coach.

The committee is expected to have a recommendation by the April meeting of the Board of Regents.

40-40 at Half

Manly came back in the second stanza to forge a 40-36 margin, but two layins by Koehler in the last 37 seconds made it a 40-40 deadlock at intermission.

Jack Novak, Kewaunee's burly 6-5 senior, sank two free throws with two seconds left in the third quarter to put the Indians up by 54-53 at the horn. The teams had never been separated by more than two points in the eight minutes.

Novak, who wound up with 11 points for the night, also got the first basket of the fourth quarter to give the Indians a 3-point advantage.

Jeff Kuehl's rebound goal kept Kewaunee in front, 58-57, with 4:13 showing, but then Fischer's baseline jumper boosted the Ships ahead for good. At the 3:30 mark, he added a free throw, and after teammate Gary Dickert notched two more gift tosses, Fischer matched Dickert's effort.

64-58 Lead

With 2:51 to go, Novak threw the ball out of bounds, and the Ships went to work protecting a heady 6-point margin, 64-58. Manly stalled until Robinson got loose underneath for a layup at 1:40, getting the basket that Fleener said "broke their back."

Kewaunee's height of frustration came when Koehler fired in a 10-foot jumper with 1:32 left only to have the goal taken away on an offensive foul call.

Fischer's two more foul shots made it 68-58 before Terry Berkovitz broke Kewaunee's field goal drought (3 minutes, 48 seconds) as :25 glamed on the clock.

Manitowoc, which meets Neenah at 8:30 p.m. today for the state meet berth, was 27 for from the floor for a solid 49 per cent shooting mark. Fischer hit nine of 18 tries.

Kewaunee swished 25 of 53 for 39.6 per cent as Koehler sank seven of 18 and Novak three of 14.

Fleener, whose Mari team met Neenah and lost in the finals of the sectional last year, was out spoken in praise of the Ships upcoming foe.

Walker and Weiss then helped Chicago move to a 92-78 bulge, with their last-quarter burst. Cincinnati used Tom Arsdale's 31 points to beat Boston. Johnny Green contributed 28 as the Royals took over from the start and never relinquished the lead.

A Bad Bill Rejected

The members of the Wisconsin assembly who provided the majority to put to death a bill offered by Rep. Anthony Earl of Wausau that would permit star chamber proceedings for the dissolution of marriages in the divorce courts have earned their constituents' praise.

Mr. Earl argued that the public — which includes the news media — should be barred from the news when divorce complaints are heard and tried, quite ignoring the abundant evidence that marriage breakdowns represent one of the towering social problems of our times and that secrecy in these matters will almost surely encourage more divorce actions. The latest Wisconsin report on the subject shows that the rate of divorces in relation to the population has risen in every recent year and is now approaching a record high, with all of the consequences that can be safely predicted, in the way of increasing dependency, child welfare problems, community costs, and erosion of the ideal of family stability upon which the very foundations of society have always rested.

Mr. Earl insisted that divorce is a "private matter", which is a curious observation for a lawyer and a man who during his first term in Madison was marked as one of the more promising arrivals on the legislative scene only two years ago.

Divorce is not a private matter, and marriage is not a private matter.

Divorce represents the dissolution of a contract. A contract, any contract, is governed by law and the dissolution of any other contract by court action in a private proceeding would be instantly opposed by all reasonable men.

The marriage contract has been a matter of social control since the origin of civilized society, and even in primitive societies there were tribal codes that were equivalents of our statute controls of modern times. The state requires a license for marriage, under statutory conditions. It requires health examinations. The family code sets out the obligations of spouses and parents of children. Property settlements following the dissolution of the marriage contract are governed by law. The custody of children and many other vital matters are set out in public law.

Mr. Earl talked regretfully about the display of "dirty linen," in his phrase, in public divorce proceedings, but he felt constrained, nevertheless, to say that the Wisconsin press has exhibited restraint and taste in reporting such matters. Altogether, he made a strangely weak case, and the 53 members of the assembly who quickly put to death his proposition for secrecy in divorce litigation are less to be praised than the 38 representatives who supported this ill-conceived idea to be condemned for their casual support of a hare-brained idea.

Are Morals at New Low?

In these days of frankness in the matter of sex, considerable nudity and explicitness on the stage and screen, relaxed regulations both officially and unofficially as to what is proper, it is easy to claim that morals have sunk to a new low.

Probably many of us past 40 do regard the more casual relationships of today's young men and women as differing from those when we were in our teens and twenties. And yet we must wonder whether the difference is not so much in what happens as in whether or not we acknowledge that it happens.

There was, of course, the Roaring Twenties, the flappers, bathtub gin, speakeasies and the emancipated woman — at least until Women's Lib came along. The breaking of the 18th Amendment was every bit as common as the evasion of drug laws today. And just as smoking reefer is considered in some segments of our society as not really bad but that the law is wrong, so was smuggling liquor, hiking out to a back pasture to fill a flask or spiking the punch not regarded as wrong in the 1920's.

But of greater interest perhaps is our looking at the Victorian Age, when Victoria reigned supreme and especially in her later years after the death of her beloved Albert, as the height of propriety, correct manners and outraged modesty if a lady showed even her ankle in the presence of the opposite sex.

The truth is — it just wasn't so.

In his remarkable biography of the first 40 years of the life of Winston Churchill's beautiful American mother, Ralph Martin points to the acceptance of extramarital affairs in high level Victorian society. He implies that Lady Randolph Churchill had innumerable such affairs and that this was recognized by her husband, himself to die insane

Something to Cackle About

That important proportion of the Wisconsin population that is concerned about agriculture and related economic enterprises will be intrigued by the estimate of the state department of agriculture that the sustained decline in the production of chickens and especially layers in this state has been reversed.

At the turn of the year the number of chickens on Wisconsin farms was estimated at more than 8 millions, or an increase of 21 per cent over the previous year, a significant upturn in poultry raising for a single year and more important, the first rise in four years. For those many of us who have not yet quite abandoned an interest in affairs rural, it is significant also that the hens of Wisconsin have learned how to produce quality eggs for breakfasts to their ancestors never did. Our hens are now laying at the rate of 238 eggs yearly, a new Wisconsin record, and one that shows a substantial superiority over those of the nation as a whole which are managing an average of only 215 each.

Wisconsin again soon will be virtually self-sufficient in eggs. Our chickens last year turned out nearly 90 per cent of our Wisconsin needs, assuming our consumption at the national per capita consumption rate of 315 eggs.

Public Bath-House Improved

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for March 6, 1871.
We chanced to drop into the bath-house of Messrs. Angell & Crawford a few days since, and were surprised to note the extensive improvements there being made to accommodate the wants and necessities of the public.

We found the steam apparatus in excellent working order, and all the modern conveniences used in our large cities have been adopted in this Appleton establishment. The expenses attending such an enterprise must be considerable, but we trust that a liberal patronage will more than indemnify the proprietors for the money invested and the time employed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Within 30 years, the rich nations may be surrounded by a sea of famine involving hundreds of millions of human beings," Lord Snow, British scientist and author, warned recently, and population experts agree.

One organization which has been warning for years of disaster ahead unless steps are taken, not only in underdeveloped countries but the United States itself, is the Population Reference Bureau, a small, privately financed nonprofit organization.

U.S. Begins to Worry
Rufus E. Miles, president of the bureau noted that the United States had finally begun to worry about how it was going to assimilate another 100 million persons without dire effects on its physical and social environment.

On New Year's Day 1971, the population of the United States stood at 206.5 million, or 2.27 million more than the previous January. At that rate it will take less than half a century for the U.S. population to rise by 100 million.

"Even though the world wide impact of unchecked population growth is understood by comparatively few," Miles said in a recent statement, "we are now at a point where we must begin to shift gears..."

As usual, the nations that can least afford higher population growths, the growth is the most rapid and they are going to have to shoulder the greatest burden.

Birth and deaths around the world now stand at a ratio of two to one, with a net gain in world population of about 70 million a year. Nearly 58 per cent of this increase, the bureau noted, occurs in the poorer nations.

To bring births into balance with low and declining death rates would necessitate a cutback of 50 million births a year.

Propose Family Planning
In 1969, the United States took its first tentative steps toward adoption of a national policy on population. A White House committee under John D. Rockefeller III proposed federal initiatives in family planning, and contraceptive research, education. It also urged creation of a national population commission.

Fewer Trips at Lower Cost Asked of Legislators

Editor, The Post-Crescent:
To: Harold Froehlich, State Capitol Building

Dear Mr. Froehlich:
Recently the Appleton Post-Crescent published two articles regarding Wisconsin lawmakers' trips to Las Vegas, San Juan, Puerto Rico and Scottsdale, Arizona to attend conferences etc. In the first article it stated that you, Mr. Froehlich, and your fellow subject, Mary McCauley, elementary pupil for the best poster; and grade schooler Ruth McConley, best editorial; James Fredenberg for the best editorial in high school, and high school student Melvin Jauck, best speech.

Senior David Krause, New London, won first place in the Future Farmers Association district speaking contest. The FHA quartet, New London, also took first place in the quartet singing competition. The four singers were Krause, Lyle Tews, Dennis Prellwitz and Harold Knutzen.

Jean and Joyce Conrad took first and second places in oratory in the forensics competitions at Shiocton High School. Jean spoke on "Keep Our Dreams Alive," while Joyce's selection was "Seeds of War."

10 YEARS AGO
Saturday, March 10, 1961.

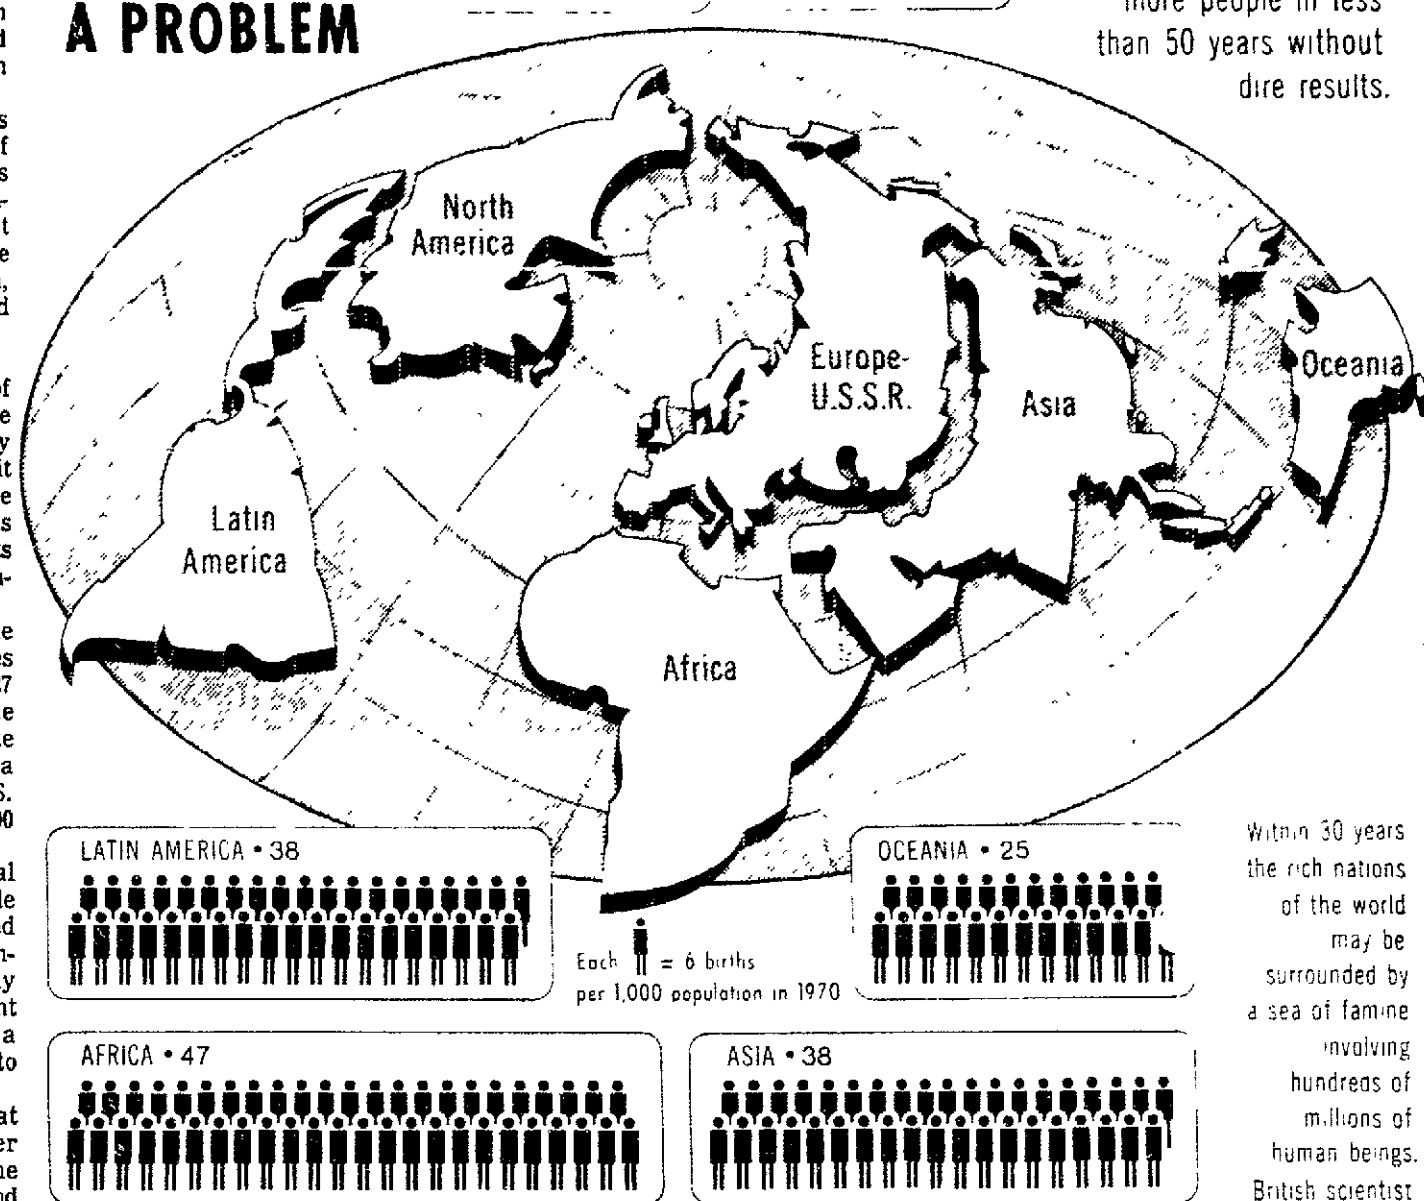

Awards were given to nine youths in three divisions of an oratorical contest held at Sacred Heart Seminary at Oneida. In the senior high division the winners were William Vander Heyden, first place; Gerald Wellens, second, and Donald Mleziva, third.

In the junior high division the winners were William Larmer, first; Lawrence Drexler, second, and Victor Klimoski, third. Top orators in the college division were sophomore William Tooley, first place; freshman Paul Demuth, second place, and sophomore Ralph Ellinger, third place.

SOARING POPULATION A PROBLEM

Experts wonder how the United States is going to assimilate 100 million more people in less than 50 years without dire results.

In a White House message to Congress on the population problem, President Nixon said, "I believe that many of our present social problems may be related to the fact that we have only had 50 years to accommodate the second hundred million Americans."

That same year, Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., proposed creation of a National Center for Population and Family Planning.

Such steps were not believed enough however. In a bulletin headed "Spaceship Earth in Peril," the Population Bureau declared that "without a political decision to get on with the job, the world population crisis will not be confronted in time to avert disaster."

No Assurance That Bingo Law Will be Changed by Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON

Any enumeration of the causes presented in the legislative arena that can be classified as hopeless or virtually so on the basis of repeated rejection would find the perennial proposal for the legislation of bingo ranking high in the list.

Now the campaign for the rewriting of the constitutional prohibition of gambling that has stood virtually unchanged from the times of the founding fathers has been renewed.

It is entirely possible that the amendment to modify the anti-lottery section of the constitution will win a first approval in the legislature. The senate vote the other day showed a comfortable majority favoring first passage. It probably suggests that the assembly will provide such a preliminary endorsement.

But such reaction is not as encouraging to the bingo fans as might be supposed. Some understanding of the political psychology of the legislature is required here. Given the chance, a typical representative likes to have a vote on both sides of a question, especially when there is some uncertainty about the division of his electorate. Generally a constitutional amendment that has reasonably visible backing gets support on its first presentation.

Second Vote Critical

The critical vote is the second, in the next succeeding legislative session. Then opponents tend to be more alert and to note the lineups. The history of the bingo lobby indicates that it will fail in 1973 even if it appears to be prevailing this year.

The contrived image of the bingo lottery, planned by its champions, is that of the motherly lady amusing herself at a church picnic by spending a few dimes or quarters in aiding a good cause.

"To deny them this harmless enjoyment, as we now do unless they want to violate the law, is an injustice and is indefensible," says Sen. Myron Lotto, a ranking Green Bay politician who is the principal author of the bingo drive this year — the latest in a suggestively long list of such campaigns.

Wyngaard

Many Skeptics Remain

Sen. Lotto is entitled to the assumption that he is in earnest, that he believes what he says, and that he is as committed in opposition to commercial bingo or any other form of gambling as the next citizen. But there will be many articulate skeptics, nevertheless. In the end they will prevail if the past is prologue here as in other human concerns.

Sponsors of bingo for demonstrably "innocent and deserving" causes lost a strategic round when they could not prevent the broadening of the proposal when the senate approved it. Under the plan to qualify all tax exempt organizations for bingo licenses, difficulties of administration and possibilities of evasion are expanded.

Backers also say that there can be no risk of invasion by professional gamblers or other undesirables under a state licensing and enforcement. Yet when the bingo resolution was before committee the leader of one of the principal law enforcement groups of the state turned up to say, with astonishing candor, that bingo is now being played widely — in defiance of a prohibition that law enforcement officers do not choose to enforce.

Skeptics Are Reflective
Skeptics won't be anti-church, anti-veteran, or anti-volunteer fire department. They are reflective persons who fear that dilution of the historic gambling prohibition will inevitably breed demands for opening of a door already ajar.

There is a suggestive precedent in the history of the slot machine in Wisconsin. For decades they were permitted in open defiance of the obvious intent of the law because the Wisconsin tourist industry claimed it could not survive without them and that it was a valid method of extracting income from well-heeled tourists. Only when grizzled old Walter Goodland became governor, his future was behind him did the state act to get rid of them. Tourism somehow survived.

Supports Opposition to Construction of Big Plane

Editor, The Post-Crescent:
I have read Roger R. Stoffel's letter to the editor concerning the SST, and I am glad to see it today, besides writing this letter, I also wrote to Sen. William Proxmire, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, William D. Ruckelshaus, and President Richard Nixon on SST. The chairman of the Neenah Environmental Council, of which I am a member, requested that we write letters to men in office and voice our personal opinion on the SST.

Mr. Stoffel brought up some very interesting facts about the SST, and its effects (all bad), the expense to the taxpayer, what would be required for the SST to be economically sound, the time gain factor, turbulence, the fact that most airlines wish the SST "would go away," (because of loss of money), the suppression of reports on the SST by the Nixon administration, the possibilities of catastrophic changes in our climate, and the inconsistency brought to light about the 200,000 person work force.

I totally agree with Mr. Stoffel when he says the U.S. does not need an SST. The old belief that the U.S. must be first in everything at the expense of the people does not hold any longer.

Mr. Stoffel is "right on" when he says it will be a "devastating mistake" if the SST funds are continued. I agree with him, and I know many more do. I hope more people in this country will pick up their pens and let the men in office know how they feel.

Good luck again, Senator Proxmire, and to you too, Mr. Stoffel. Ground the Great White Elephant!

Fast Reactions Needed
For Speed Jackstones

BY CAPPY DICK

"Speed Jackstones" is a fast-action game. It's for two the floor. At a signal, each player starts playing as in regular jacks, trying to pick up as many jacks as possible until all 12 have been gathered.

Starting out with "onesies," the players pick up only one jack at a time. If Mary picks up a total of seven and Nora five, the score for "onesies" is seven to five.

"Twosies" are next. If Mary picks up a total of eight jacks and Nora only four, the score for "twosies" is eight to four.

Follow through with "threesies," "foursies," "fivesies" and "sixies." Then add up the total score for each player. To avoid errors it is a good idea to keep score with paper and pencil.

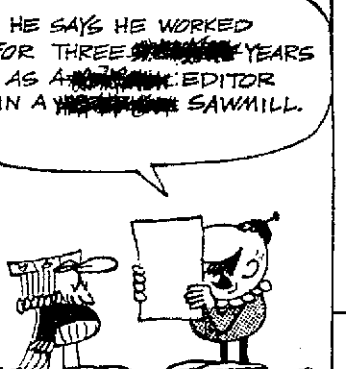

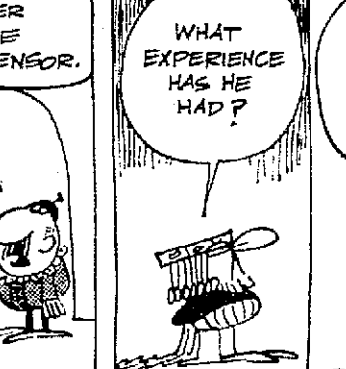

To be a winner a player must be fast. Don't toss the ball too high; it wastes time. Monday: Lots more good fun for every boy and girl!

Bonnie Lee Applebee, 19, 621 N. Morris St., was fined $50 and costs Friday for the theft of $60 from the H. C. Prange Store downtown when she worked there as a cashier. She pleaded guilty, in the court of Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer.

Appleton detectives said the money was taken from a cash register between Dec. 1, 1970 and Feb. 26, 1971.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer said Tuesday for sentencing Gregory Stafford, 17, 714 W. Commercial St., on two charges of disorderly conduct and a count of battery. Stafford, who had been waived from the Juvenile Court earlier this week on the charges, pleaded guilty.

Authorities brought the first disorderly conduct count Dec. 4, 1970, after Stafford refused to let the girl attend class at Appleton High School-West by holding her near the lockers in the school. The second disorderly count was brought Feb. 6, when Stafford damaged an auto carrying the girl near a W. College Avenue restaurant.

The battery charge was lodged against Stafford for biting and slapping the girl Nov. 1, last year near her home. Schaefer ordered that Stafford be held without bond in the county jail until sentencing.

Ann Lauder, 54, Black Creek, will stand trial before a jury April 12 on a disorderly conduct charge to which she pleaded innocent Friday. Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer set bond of $50. Wilbert Zocholl, 21, 1111 W. Commercial St., charged that on Wednesday she came to his home in the village and called him abusive names, presumably for a traffic violation.

Shirley Heller, 34, 1204 Mitchell Ave., was fined $50 and costs Friday for shoplifting three pairs of shorts from the downtown H. C. Prange store March 3. She pleaded no contest to the count before Outagamie County Judge F. Schaefer.

Nancy Rabideau, 19, 902 1/2 N. Burke St., pleaded innocent Friday to taking a package and a check from the Park and Market Store, 1400 N. Meade St., March 3. She appeared in court Friday. Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer set bond of $50, and scheduled trial for next Friday.

Richard Smits, 19, route 3, Seymour, was sentenced to 30 days in the Outagamie County Jail under the Huber Law Friday for stealing a tool box from the truck of Jerome Neuhaus, 26, while the vehicle was parked in the Town of Oneida. Smits changed his plea on the theft charge to guilty.

Suspect Charged With 5 Counts of Forgery

Six felony charges were had been stolen from Towne Inc., a contracting firm at 3106 W. Wisconsin Ave. The offenses occurred between Dec. 20 and 26 in Appleton and the Town of Green Chute, detectives charge. Three checks were in the amount of $318.56, and the other two were $273.40, authorities said.

Charges of robbery and possibly others are pending against the 28-year-old man, Assistant Dist. Atty. R. Thomas Case said Friday.

Accomplice Sentenced — A third man, Charles Pruitt, 43, route 1, Waupun, was sentenced to 20 years in the State Prison March 18, 1970, for cashing the five checks which detectives say Wellens forged. Considered by Circuit Court Judge Andrew W. Parnell when he sentenced Pruitt were 16 additional counts of check forgery consolidated here from Winnebago County to which Pruitt pleaded guilty.

Appleton Man Robbed — Appleton detectives charge that Wellens robbed Robert A. Keller, 50, Appleton, the early morning of Dec. 19, 1969, and took a billfold containing $135. Wellens, and a 28-year-old Appleton man, the complaint charged, robbed Keller while he was stopped for a sign at Glendale and Owaissa Streets in his car.

Detectives also charge that Wellens forged five checks that suffered back and neck injuries and Linda Rucks, 2401 S. Jefferson St., a passenger in the Acker car, had forehead and leg injuries.

Barbara Reavis, Black Creek, was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by auto about 1:10 a.m. today after the car she was in, driven by John Selmer, 22, 636 Green St., Seymour, was involved in an accident with a car driven by Vernon H. Kempen, 32, route 1, Menasha.

Appleton police said the Selmer car was northbound on Richmond Street and Kempen was eastbound on Northland Avenue. The Black Creek woman suffered a right knee injury and face cuts.

The theft of a flute and case, valued at $170, was reported to Appleton police Friday by Wendy K. Wichman, 1343 E. Glendale Ave., who said the items were taken from her locker at Roosevelt Junior High School.

Diana Ruskey, 622 N. Sampson St., complained of a knee injury after her car, which was eastbound on Grant Street, collided with a car driven by Stanley F. Kamys, 17, 1919 N. Nicholas St., who was northbound on Douglas Street, about 3:30 p.m. Friday.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad took Adeline V. Eickhoff, 1131 W. Harris St., to Appleton Memorial Hospital from her home about 12:10 a.m. today after she experienced difficulty breathing.

Legion Post's Building Plan Given Okay

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the American Legion gave preliminary approval to a proposed building plan for the Legion grounds on McKinley Street. The structure proposed by John R. Jansen, chairman of the building committee, will provide rest rooms and storage area for Legion equipment at the site of the annual picnic.

Donations of $200 to the Legion Auxiliary child welfare program and $25 to each of the three Scout troops supported by the Legion were approved. Donations of $5 to three Scout troops for training kits were approved and members authorized the finance committee to purchase helmets for members of the auxiliary police and a power saw for the volunteer fire department of the village.

Sponsoring seven boys to Badger Boys State was opposed and Little Chute High School students were granted permission to use Legion equipment in staging a Mardi Gras later this month. Plans were discussed for a Legion birthday party March 27. Girl Scouts were granted permission to use the Legion public address system for the annual banquet.

Former Commander O'Neil Rochon presented a plaque to Mrs. Henry Kuhn for child welfare work done by the Auxiliary.

Outagamie Courthouse to Get Added Parking Space

Additional parking space will be provided east of the Outagamie County Courthouse as the result of a public property and park committee's decision to take a county-owned house at 324 W. Sixth St.

The lot, which extends from Sixth to Seventh Streets behind the property fronting on Elm Street, would provide parking for about 47 cars, the committee was told.

The county had bought the property last July for $18,500 for use as a juvenile receiving home. However, later property purchased at Walnut and Fifth Streets proved more suitable for a receiving home and the Sixth

State Sues Grant Co. for Usury Breach

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Department of Justice has sued the W. T. Grant Co. for alleged violation of the state usury law. Atty. Gen. Robert Warren announced Friday.

The first of two suits filed in Rock County Circuit Court claims that the interest rate account plan exceeds the 12 percent permitted by Wisconsin law. The suit also states that the finance charge is computed without deducting payments to the customer's account during the month.

The second suit alleges that Grant's coupon book plan violates the usury law by excessive interest on coupon sales. The coupons are used like cash to purchase merchandise from Grants.

The company, with main offices in New York, operates two stores in the Fox Cities area and others in Janesville, Madison, Kenosha and Milwaukee.

Abolition Proposed CCHE to Face Test At Financial Hearing

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Patrick J. Lucey's proposal to abolish the Coordinating Council for Higher Education (CCHE) may receive its first major test before the legislature next week.

The budget for the CCHE will go before the Joint Finance Committee along with those for the Revenue Department, Supreme Court, State Employment Relations Commission, and the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations.

Lucey has recommended that the two university systems be merged and that the CCHE be abolished. The elimination of the CCHE would save the state more than $831,000, Lucey has estimated.

The CCHE issue will be discussed Wednesday. Budgets for the Supreme Court and Employment Relations Commission will be considered Thursday.

Colonel Expects Pressing Charges Will End Career

FT. MC PHERSON, Ga. (AP)—Lt. Col. Anthony B. Herbert, Vietnam, predicting that "within six months at the very latest I'll be getting my letter telling me the date I'm going to be a civilian. I'm going to be a civilian of specification had not been completed."

Herbert accuses Maj. Gen. John Barnes and Col. J. Ross Franklin, commander and deputy commander of the 173d Airborne Brigade during 1969 of failing to investigate and report the murder and torture of Vietnamese civilians in the Cu Loi prison (concealment of a felony) and dereliction of duty in the brigade, has pressed the accusations for almost two years.

Both Barnes, now assigned to the Pentagon, and Franklin, still stationed in Vietnam, have declined to comment on Herbert's allegations. The Pentagon says the Criminal Intelligence Division is still investigating his accusations.

Herbert said the CID investigation was begun only after he made repeated demands and threatened to take the matter into federal court.

Herbert, married and the father of one, entered the Army as a high school dropout and has two years work completed towards a master's degree. He holds the Silver Star and Bronze Star medals and was wounded four times in Korea. He was a master sergeant before he received a direct commission in 1956.

Why would he press a case that he believed would put his career on the line? He was asked Friday.

"It's just a matter that the crimes were committed, and I think the real reason that I go through with it or not is, I think that I appreciate the respect that I feel that I have of the men who worked for me and with me. . . . And who I've worked for, also. . . . I just think that I would be untrue to the people that gave me the promotions, that have come to me in the Army at different times, if I didn't go through with it. I think it's sort of paying a debt."

Foundation Laid for 8-County Comprehensive Health Planning

BY BILL HURRLE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — With amazing speed and smoothness the Lake Winnebago District Comprehensive Health Planning Set-Up Committee selected 16 members for the permanent group, roughed out the budget through 1973 and settled on a formula to split financing between the eight counties Thursday in Oshkosh.

Now the hard work of selling the ideas to each county board has to be done before the two-year organizational phase of area-wide health planning can begin in earnest.

$10,000 Budget

Fred Eggers, Calumet Memorial Hospital administrator, outlined fiscal formulas and needs. The choice was per capita charges, a percentage of state equalized valuation or a base amount plus a percentage of evaluation. For the rest of this year, $10,000 is budgeted. For 1972 and 1973, the total need is pegged at $75,000.

The set-up committee decided to charge each county a flat $1,000 for this year. If more money is needed, it will be raised from private sources. Federal grants are available to cover 50 per cent of the cost, but they will not be applied for until 1972. The committee's philosophy is to plan as if they are not there — the job needs doing with or without federal money — but apply aggressively for the maximum grant possible. Gerry Halverson, head of the State Bureau of Comprehensive Health Planning, pointed to the rapid receipt of federal money in other Wisconsin planning districts and predicted no problems in getting grants.

For future funding, each county will be asked to pay a base of $1,000 and then a percentage of the total expense left based on the ratio of the county's equalized valuation compared to the eight-county total value.

For 1972, a need for $35,000 is seen. It would be split like this: Calumet, $1,335 (6 per cent); Fond du Lac, $3,984 (18 per cent); Green Lake, $1,070 (5 per cent); Marquette, $469 (2 per cent); Outagamie, $6,136 (28 per cent); Waupaca, $1,756 (7 per cent); Waushara, $792 (4 per cent); and Winnebago, $6,598 (30 per cent). Each also would pay $1,000.

Director's Salary

Roger Baird, permanent committee member from Outagamie, said the budget was mainly for a director's salary. One is required by law. "We will use existing switchboards, typewriters, secretaries and office space. There is no need to go first class at this stage of planning."

At a previous meeting, representation based partly on population, but more heavily on equal representation from each county, was settled on. The final committee will have 41 members, 22 of them consumers of health care and 19 providers. The membership will strive to represent the total spectrum of both groups. For example, nurses, doctors, nursing home administrators, dentists and sanitary engineers would be mixed with farmers, county board supervisors, industrialists, small businessmen, minority culture members and housewives.

Two From County

Thursday the membership committee selected two people from each county, one consumer and one provider. They will meet with the membership committee to select the rest of the 41 final members. The problem is getting the proper representative mix.

From Fond du Lac, Joseph Marchant, a dairy farmer, and James Kennedy, a hospital administrator. It has three more to select.

Waupaca has five representatives. The two chosen are Roger

E. Wilson, an optometrist, and Woodrow Smith, a county supervisor.

Calumet Members

Calumet selected Fred Eggers, hospital administrator, and Le Roy Kleist, a supervisor. It has three more.

Waushara has four representatives, Marie Millington, public health nurse, and Clifford Finerly, a supervisor, were picked.

Green Lake has four and selected the Rev. Arthur North and John Faren, an optometrist.

Outagamie has six representatives. Chosen were John Shepard, hospital administrator, and Roger Baird, industrialist and a member of the advisory council of the state-wide health planning committee.

Seven Representatives

Winnebago County has seven representatives and selected Carl Steffins, supervisor and chairman of the county health committee, and James Fitzgerald, Mercy Medical Center administrator.

Marquette has four, and chose George Mac Kenzie, nursing home administrator, and Mrs. Ann Mills, housewife and member of the State Advisory Panel of the Wisconsin Regional Medical Program.

The administrator-county supervisor weighting was done deliberately to speed organization of the whole group.

The chosen members will meet Tuesday to sort out categories needed. Their report will be given to each county's resource planning committee, which will select names to fit. The membership committee will meet again to report, and the entire 41-man committee will be formed in 30 to 45 days. At that time, the set-up committee will dissolve itself and the business of bylaws, budget detailing and staffing will be taken up by the regional group.

The rush to get into business is being forced by the federal government. To get its money-grants, Medicare, Medicaid health units soon will have to be certified. Certification depends in part upon being a member of a health planning region. The federal government entered the health picture because of the rising costs and declining delivery of care.

31 Budget Overruns

Monthly Financial Reports Requested

MENASHA — Overruns in 31 city budget accounts in 1970 have prompted city officials to bolster their spending watchdog capabilities to prevent the same thing from happening again this year.

Mayor James Adams has ordered City Clerk Hubert Nelson to prepare monthly financial condition reports on city budget accounts to show where, and how fast, the money is going out.

He told department heads during a meeting earlier this week that "they are going to be responsible for watching their budget accounts and keeping a tight eye on them."

"I want to keep the Common Council aware of what's going on," he said.

Adams contends that city officials have not watched their accounts close enough in the past. He said this must change in light of the unnoticed overspending that took place in 1970.

Aldermen didn't know that the city ended the year with a $6,000 deficit until they received a financial condition report from Nelson recently.

Miller said fire damage to the building was minor but that there was evidence the building may have been broken into.

He said a passerby noticed flames coming from the exterior base of the building and had a neighbor call the fire department after he had thrown snow on the blaze. Responding with four trucks at 5 a.m., Town of Algoma firemen had to dig through snow to uncover charred logs underneath the building. They applied high pressure fog to extinguish the still glowing embers.

Winnebago County sheriff's officers who investigated said they had no comment to make this morning.

The decision to delay action indefinitely came Thursday after police Chief Lawrence Malouf expressed doubt about being able to enforce the legislation.

"How are we supposed to decide if a dog is getting enough food or water, or if it gets enough shade?" Malouf asked.

Pointing to sections of the suggested ordinance, Malouf said, "Some neighbors may think the dog isn't getting enough food so they complain.

Malouf also pointed to past complaints about dogs being left out in subzero weather. "The neighbors complained so we checked. We found out that the dogs can't stand the heat inside, so what are we supposed to do?" he asked.

"If the Animal Welfare League would like this kind of ordinance, then it can enforce it because it knows more about animals than we do," Malouf added.

Terrors, Rockets Reach Sectional Finals

West Impressive in 79-58 Victory Over Clintonville '5'

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

GREEN BAY — Appleton West, an unstoppable whirlwind for better than half the game and a coolly competent basketball team the rest of the time, crushed Clintonville, 79-58, here Friday night to move within one step of earning an encore berth in the state tournament.

It didn't matter if the name of the game was defense, rebounding or shooting, the defending state Champion Terrors excelled in them all with a convincing display of power basketball before a sectional tourney turn-out of 5,128 fans in the Brown County Arena.

West (18-4) puts its sectional title on the line at about 8:45 p.m. today against Green Bay East (15-7) in a duel for state tournament qualification.

Clintonville (18-5) meets Crivitz (19-4) at 7 p.m. for sectional consolation honors.

Take 33-13 Lead

The Terrors were particularly awesome in the first 13 minutes last night as they roared to a 33-13 lead. This removed the doubt about the game's outcome even though the shorter Truckers gave it a whale of a try all the way.

Coach Dick Emanuel was especially pleased by West's first-half performance (in which the Terrors scored 39 points and limited the Clints to 23) but was somewhat disturbed by what he called "relaxed defensive play" in the second half. The Truckers poured in 35 points after intermission and were effective from long range.

4 in Double Figures

In winning their sixth straight game, and 13th in the last 14 starts, the Terrors again featured tough-to-defense scoring balance (four players reached double figures); they again shot 0.47 (54.7 per cent) that erodes opponents' morale; and they again achieved a substantial rebounding edge (43 to 29).

Rich Reitzner, West's sterling outside shooter and point-man on several fast breaks, sank 10 of 19 floor attempts enroute to a 22-point night. Tim Moriarty, who sat out 4½ minutes of the first half after contracting his third foul, connected on seven of 10 shots and contributed a total of 16 points.

Ike Chestnut added 15 points for West and gave an eye-popping demonstration of board power. The high-jumping junior gathered in 18 rebounds — including nine in an extraordinary first quarter.

Tallies 10 Points

Carl Joosten hit double figures in a reserve role for the second straight time. He tallied 10 points and helped considerably in the rebounding chores.

Two of the Truckers gave exceptionally fine performances as the team sought to avenge last year's 46-44 sectional loss to the Terrors. Craig LeBeau was brilliant from long range, as he scored 21 points. He canned seven of 11 in the second half and 10-for-19 for the game.

The 6-2 Mark Heideman tallied 15 points — including 6-of-10 from the foul line and pulled in nine rebounds despite giving away height to the Terrors' sizable front line.

Clintonville's strategy was revealed early, as the Truckers took the opening tip and controlled the ball for nearly 45 seconds before Randy Nelson fired from 15 feet — and connected. (It proved to be the Truckers' lone lead.) Coach Carl Bruggink felt a deliberate style was his team's only chance since the Clints didn't figure to be able to "run" with the Terrors.

The Truckers, however, were quickly forced into a catch-up situation, as West tossed in four straight baskets for an 8-2 lead. Moriarty's pivot shot tied the score. Reitzner then hit the target from the right corner, for a 4-2 lead, with 6:09 left in the first quarter. Chestnut dropped a 15-footer and Moriarty succeeded from 12 feet out before Heideman put the Truckers back in business with a free throw.

Moriarty had a big (9-point) first quarter, as West sprinted to a 17-17 advantage.

Reduce Deficit

West continued to click on all cylinders, as it outscored Clintonville, 16 to 6, in the first 5:00 of the second quarter boosting the lead to 20 (33-13). The Clints retaliated with their best comeback spurt — outscoring West, 8-0, to reduce the deficit to 12 (33-21). LeBeau and Heideman scored goals, while John Jartz, Mark Smith and Heideman hit free throws.

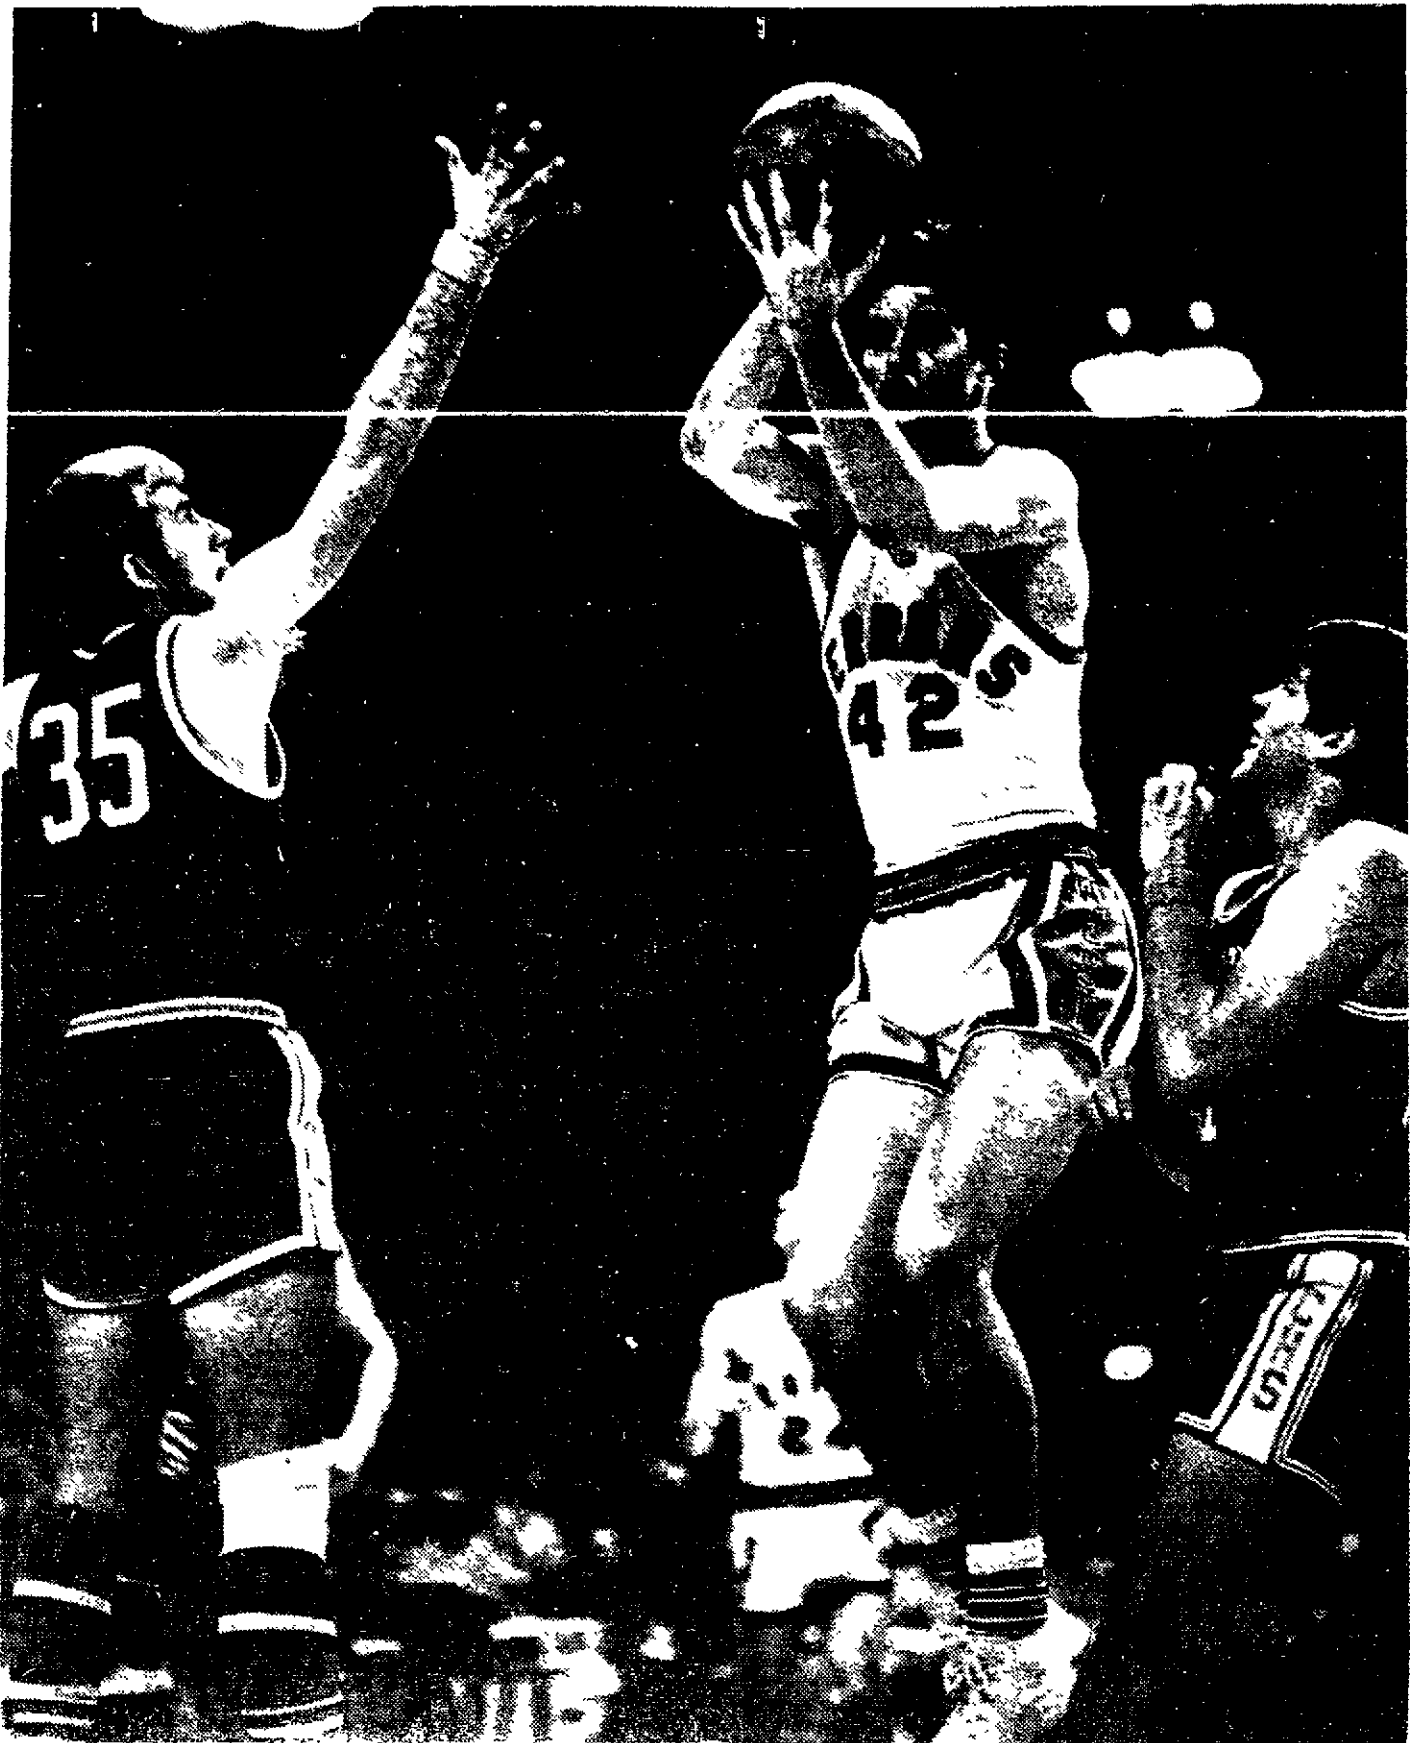

But Reitzner and Chestnut again found the range, and West's lead was up to 16 (39-23) by halftime.

LeBeau's long-shot artistry enabled the Clints to outscore West, 15-12, in the third quarter, cutting the margin to 13 (51-38). The Terrors unleashed their fast break early in the fourth period and zoomed the lead to 19 (58-39). West hooped 13 of 18 floor attempts in the last quarter, as even the reserves found the mark in the closing minutes.

For the game, AHS-W hit 35 of 64 shots. The Clints sank 20 of 59 (.339).

APPLETON WEST (17-22-22-79) Luebben 10, Chestnut 6, Moriarty 7, Reitzner 10, Mueller 11, Sun-deland 0-1, Brattenfeld 1-0, Byrte 1-0. Totals 25 12 16 FTM—4.

CLINTONVILLE (17-14-13-58) Heideman 4, Jartz 15, LeBeau 10, Nelson 3, Kasper 2, Smith 0, True 0-1, Olson 0-1, Schwegert 0-2. Totals 20 12 12 FTM—4.

Tim Moriarty (42) of Appleton West was high in the air as he got off a shot against the Clintonville Truckers in sectional tournament basketball play at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena Friday night. Trying to guard at the left is Craig LeBeau (35) of Clintonville and at the right is Mark Heideman. West scored a 79-58 victory to advance to tonight's finals against Green Bay East with the winner moving to the state tournament next weekend at Madison. (Post-Crescent Photo by Bob Tews)

Late Rally by Manitowoc Ships Tip Kewaunee, 68-60

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MANITOWOC — Kewaunee's Indians will have to wait another year.

Wisconsin's No. 1-ranked small school quintet, which reached the Green Bay sectional last year before being ousted by eventual state champion Appleton West, had its state tournament hopes dashed again here Friday night by host Manitowoc, 68-60.

It was not an easy victory for the Ships, who trailed the tall invaders, 56-53, with 6:29 left to play. But led by cat-nick guard Rick Fischer's shooting and playmaking, the Fox River Valley Conference champions spurred for an 11-2 advantage over a 4-minute segment to turn the game around.

Fischer, a 5-10 junior, finished with 25 points to head both teams in scoring. Ken Robinson, a running mate of Fischer in the backcourt, drilled 14 points for runner-up honors.

18 For Koehler

Pete Koehler, Kewaunee's 6-foot, 8-inch junior center, netted 18 points in pacing the Indians. Only four of Koehler's total he declared "I think that came in the second half after turned the tide for us."

Manitowoc switched from man-to-man to zone and zone-defense.

And while Manitowoc, rated No. 6 among the large schools, was shoring up its own defense, press and fall back into the zone.

Manty had another problem in the opening 16 minutes as the starting center Steve Wetenkamp picked up four fouls.

However, Mike Check came off the bench to contribute valuable board strength and nine points besides.

Fleener, whose Manitowoc exactly why," he went on softly, "but I know we were standing a lot of the last six years, indicated surprise at some of the courses the contest took.

"We thought we could crack it, but added, "I give a lot of them sooner," he asserted, "We credit to their inside kids. They didn't think we'd have to go down to the last minutes with them."

Indians Tired?

Concerning Kewaunee's a parent defensive lapse, Fleener noted, "We got a couple layups and inside shots, and it looked like they were standing a lot late in game. I thought they were very tired."

Another bit of Kewaunee strategy that left the Manty coach scratching his head was the fact

Neenah Faces Manitowoc After Effortless 77-54 Triumph Over Waupun

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MANITOWOC — Laboring methodically, almost effortlessly, Neenah's Rockets dispatched 13 in the contest but five were Waupun, 77-54, Friday night to put on Petersen, its tallest gain a berth in the Manitowoc starter.

WIAA Sectional Tournament finals for the fourth straight year—and the fifth time in the last six.

And for the fourth consecutive campaign, tonight's for will be the host Shipbuilders, 68-60 victors over Kewaunee, No. 1 small school in the state, in Friday's nightcap.

The Rockets, living up to their label as the state's no. 1 rated large school, etched their 22nd straight triumph without too much effort.

To put it simply, the Twin Cities just had too much height and rebounding strength for the Prison City quintet. They consistently worked the ball inside behind the Waupun zone for layups and when they missed, a number of tips were put back up and through the hoop for a good possession scoring percentage.

Worked Ball Inside

"They didn't have much size and it was awful easy to get the ball inside," Neenah coach Ron Einerson commented after the game.

He said the Rockets did what they wanted to do but later remarked that, at times, his club took too many shots from outside when they could have moved the ball closer to the basket.

"We didn't play defense the first quarter and a half, we didn't play defense," a dejected coach Larry Rackow of Waupun lamented.

Rackow explained that one of the Warriors' objectives was to keep Pete (Jim Petersen, 6-4 center) out of foul trouble but that he picked up two early in the game. Waupun only totaled 13 in the contest but five were Petersen, its tallest starter.

'They're Good'

"They're good," was Rackow's simple and frank appraisal of the Fox Valley Association champions.

His athletes matched the Rockets point for point in the early going until at 13-11, the latter's Rick Matson hit two consecutive baskets, a short jump shot and a layup.

Doug Stelsel collected two free throws for Waupun but then Bill Schultz tallied on a tip-in. Ed Hawley connected from the corner and Steve Loker pumped in a jump shot to increase the spread to 10 points.

Stelsel chipped the difference by two with his quarter-ending fielder.

It was just about curtains for the upset-minded Warriors at the start of the second segment when the winners notched the first nine points. Matson, Jim Crist, Hawley and Loker all had single baskets and Lew Holinbeck put in a free throw.

The disastrous period netted the Little Ten Conference representatives seven points and only one basket in 13 attempts. The Rockets had 15, their lowest single quarter point total of the night, but commanded a comfortable 38-22 advantage at the break.

Schultz and Hawley poured in baskets to start the third period action and from then on the spread ranged from 18 to 24 points, including the 59-35 at its finish.

3 'Unbeatens' Ousted In Sectional Meets

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thump! Thump! Thump! That's the sound of three previously-unbeaten teams falling out of the running for the 1971 WIAA state basketball tournament.

But, two teams with perfect records—Greendale and Neenah—remain in the field of 16 that will battle tonight. The winners of those eight games will advance to the state meet next weekend at the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse in Madison.

Edge Waukesha Greendale extended its record to 22-0 by defeating Clintonville, 57-49. Neenah, The Associated Press' top-ranked "Big Ten" school, posted a 77-54 victory over Waupun to run its record to an identical 22-0.

Eliminated, however, were Waukesha, in the night's biggest upset, and Osseo-Fairchild and Pardeeville.

Whitefish Bay, playing on its own court, edged Waukesha, 60-59. The winners had lost twice to Waukesha during the regular season.

Waukesha trailed throughout the game, but sophomore Rob Dean's two free throws with seven seconds remaining sealed Whitfish Bay's victory. Dave Delsman scored 17 points to pace Waukesha, while the Blue Dukes had balanced scoring.

Jeff Healy's lay-up with one second left in the second overtime lifted Clear Lake to a 64-63 verdict over Colfax. Clear Lake, now 22-1 for the season, overcame a 45-point performance by Ken Obermuller of Colfax.

In another overtime battle, this one lasting only one extra session, Milwaukee Boys Tech clipped Racine Park, 83-78. Len Prewitt scored 42 points for Tech, including eight in the overtime.

Rhinelanders ousted Osseo-Fair-

Green Bay East Rolls Over Crivitz, 84-65

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — A good case for the split tournament was authored Friday in the opening game of the Green Bay sectional as Green Bay East had too much of everything for Crivitz, 84-65.

The Red Devils took advantage of the Wolverines' lack of depth throughout as once 6-7 junior Tom Neveln got into foul trouble the Devils had command at will.

Utilizing superior height under the boards the Devils dominated the rebound game and saw three of their big men hit 20 points or better. Mike Belin paced the attack with 24 points. Pat Hogan rummed 21 and Tom Heim banged down 20.

Green Bay East carries a 15-7 slate into tonight's championship game against Appleton West (18-4).

Spectacular Shooting

Spectacular shooting highlighted most of the game as both teams shot from long range and dropped the ball through at nearly a 50 per cent rate.

Crivitz hit on 25 of 54 for about 46 per cent, while Green Bay East shot 52 per cent on 36 of 70 floor attempts. The Devils held a 39-23 advantage off the boards.

Neveln was able to hold the Wolverines together while he was in the game, which wasn't much after the first quarter. Crivitz was nearly even in the first quarter but Belin and Heim dropped in two late baskets as GBE took a 23-17 lead.

Slow Start

Second period action started slowly, but Neveln picked up his second foul early and was tagged with his third with 4:23 left in the half and had to sit out the rest of the period except for a brief appearance late in the session. GBE led 37-32 at the intermission.

A Good Team Emanuel (Mark) is a very good boy, and they certainly are well coached."

However, the immediate thing on Emanuel's mind was to night's championship contest against a good looking Green Bay East team

"They did a tremendous job," Emanuel said of East. "They're big on the boards, much bigger than we are. We're going to have to play every bit as good against them."

A question placed to the Terrors' coach struck a touchy nerve. One reporter asked why West got a good lead and then didn't bury the Truckers.

"That's not our style," Emanuel said. "Look at us... the idea is to win."

Bruggink offered part of an explanation. "I'm real proud of our guys," he said. "They don't down but didn't give up. The kids really battled."

"I can see West going all the way... they're by far the best team we've played," the Truckers coach said

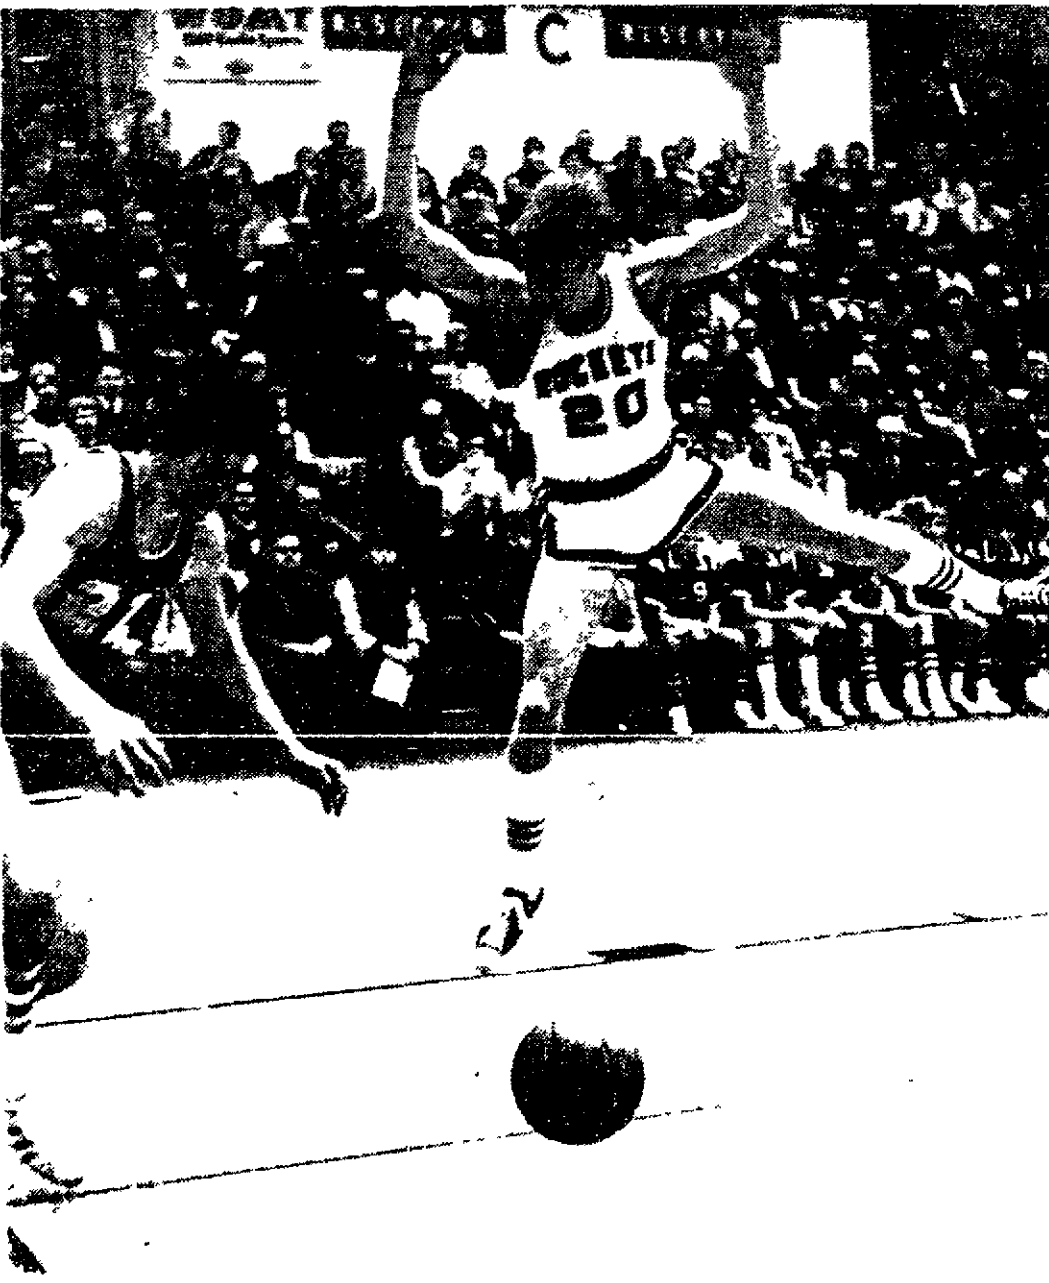

West's style — to which Emanuel alluded — is defense. "To be a consistent team like West you have to play defense," Bruggink said. "Dick certainly does a fine job in teaching defense and getting his team ready."

Praises Heideman

Bruggink had high praise for his hard-working center. Heideman "We needed a big man to really make him effective. He is only 6-2 and gives away too much in the middle," Bruggink indicated.

Emanuel had praise for some of the players too often overlooked on his star-studded team. "Everybody knew about Reitzner (Rich) and Moriarty (Tim) at the start of the year," he said, "they were all we had back."

The West coach indicated he felt his team was on the move. "What is it, we've won 13 of 14 games now," he mused. "Yes, I would have to say we're coming."

Neenah High School's John Pierce appears to be doing a war dance to discourage Doug Stelsel of Waupun from pouncing on a loose ball during first half action in Friday's Manitowoc WIAA Sectional Tournament game. The Rockets cruised to a 77-54 triumph and will meet Manitowoc at 8:30 p.m. today in quest of their third straight state tournament berth. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Liquori Tries or Sweep in ICAA Meet

Villanova Senior Jinxed in Title Quest Since 1968

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Villanova's Marty Liquori tries today to match famed Jim Run's meet sweep of the mile and two-mile, but the ICAA champion Wildcats may come out an also-ran against a hot field for the NCAA indoor track and field meet.

Liquori, America's prime 1-meter contender for the 72 Olympics, tackles a meet in the mile run of the 10-11 closing program after a sprinting two-mile triumph last night.

Until the smooth-striding Villanova senior exploded a superb finish kick to take the two-mile in a creditable 8:37.1, he'd been thwarted in an NCAA indoor title quest since his sophomore year.

Liquori was overshadowed by Run, who had swept three mile titles, including 1968 when a Jayhawk great also scored double by capturing the two-mile.

And last year, with Ryunne, Liquori was shaded in the mile by William & Mary's How Michael whom Marty againles this afternoon.

After seven finals in yesterday's opening session, Big Ten champion Wisconsin appeared a chief threat to Kansas' try for a third successive team title, although Villanova and State led with 10 points each.

Kansas, whose Karl Salbrely won his third successive output title, and Wisconsin had no points each, followed by Southern California with 8, and dangerous Texas-El Paso tied with Rutgers and Cal Poly with each.

The team title, won last year by Kansas, 27½ to 26 over Villanova, well could be settled in the two-mile and distance medley relays with Wisconsin and Villanova respective favorites.

WAUSAU — Five Fox Cities eagles received mention as on the Channel 7 all-star teams named this week.

Excellent mention, playfully missing the first team, went to Bruce Breitenfeldt, gerton; Randy Faulks, Weyewaga, and Goodwin Peterson, Arion.

Special mention honors were accorded Bruce Beversdorf and Arnold Mavis, both of Wittenberg-Birnawood.

None of the big school selections was from this area as the rger schools in most cases are considered out of the TV-7 area.

or his liberal use of substitutes, seemed to go to his bench more often than usual. By the middle of the last quarter all of is starters were on the bench.

Didn't Use Press

The Rocket strategist played straight all the way and didn't employ the pesky press that gave Ripon fits in the second half of last week's regional opener and ruined Fond u Lac's hopes in the first half of the championship affair.

As might be expected, because the victors were able to the ball inside effectively, Schultz and Matson emerged as high scorers with 22 and 18 olunts, respectively. Hawley hipred in with 12. Reserves counted for 18.

Make 34 Baskets

Stelsel, the Little Ten Conference's leading scorer, topped Vaupun with 15 points but underper honors went to Dennis unde Busch, a sophomore reserve, with 14. Jim Singer, third leading pointmaker in the conference, was limited to nine.

child, 79-70, by hitting 21 of 21 free throws. The victorious Hodags were fourth-ranked in the "Big Ten," while the losers were rated No. 5 in the "Little Ten."

Bob Falk's 25 points boosted Madison West over third-ranked Pardeeville, 75-56, as the losers lost four of their starters on fouls.

Reedsburg put the defensive clamps on Steve Hill and beat Viroqua, 94-49. Hill, who scored 43 and 36 points in two other tournament games this season, managed only seven against Reedsburg's Dennis Milena.

ner rallied to take a 22-19 edge at the end of the first period.

40-40 at Half

Manty came back in the second stanza to forge a 40-36 margin, but two layins by Koehler in the last 37 seconds made it a 40-40 deadlock at intermission.

Jack Novak, Kewaunee's burly 6-5 senior, sank two free throws with two seconds left in the third quarter to put the Indians up by 54-53 at the horn. The teams had never been separated by more than two points in the eight minutes.
